

An aerial photograph of a river winding through a dense forest. The trees have vibrant autumn foliage in shades of green, yellow, and orange. A concrete bridge spans the river in the lower half of the image. A white police car with flashing red and blue lights is driving across the bridge. Large, dark rocks are visible in the riverbed near the bridge. The overall scene is captured from a high angle, looking down on the landscape.

LOVE IN COLOUR

Bolu Babalola

Love stories that truly represent the world we live in inspired by tales from the past; celebrated and retold in this unique illustrated collection, by debut author Bolu Babalola.

Join debut author Bolu Babalola as she recreates the most beautiful love stories from history and mythology and retells them with new incredible detail and vivacity. Focusing on the magical folktales of West Africa, Babalola also reimagines iconic Greek myths, ancient legends from South Asia, and stories from countries that no longer exist in our world. Babalola is inspired by tales that truly show the variety and colours of love around the globe.

A high-born Nigerian goddess feels beaten down and unappreciated by her gregarious lover and longs to be truly seen. A young businesswoman attempts to make a great leap in her company, and an even greater one in her love life. A powerful Ghanaian spokeswoman is forced to decide whether to uphold her family's politics, or to be true to her heart.

Bolu takes a step in decolonising tropes of love by creating new stories that are inspired by the wildly beautiful tales that already exist in so many communities and cultures. Moving exhilaratingly across perspectives, continents and genres, from the historic to the vividly current, Love in Colour is a celebration of romance in all of its forms.

Get lost in these mystical worlds and see that love, like humanity, comes in technicolour.

About the Author:

Bolu Babalola is a London-based writer, and lover of love. In 2016, she was shortlisted in 4thEstate's B4ME competition for her short story 'Netflix & Chill', a hilarious teen romance. Whilst writing scripts for TV and film, she also works as a TV and Culture columnist for Dazed, where she calls herself a 'romcomoisieur'.

HEATSTROKE

Hazel Barkworth

Intoxicating and compulsive, Heatstroke is a darkly gripping, thought-provoking novel of crossed boundaries, power and betrayal, that plays with expectations at every turn.

A dazzling debut novel of a dark love affair, set to ignite debate in summer 2020 for fans of Zoe Heller, Emma Cline, Expectation and The Lemon Grove.

The summer burns with secrets...

It is too hot to sleep. To work. To be questioned time and again by the police.

At the beginning of a stifling, sultry summer, everything shifts irrevocably when Lily doesn't come home one afternoon.

Rachel is Lily's teacher. Her daughter Mia is Lily's best friend. The girls are fifteen - almost women, still children.

As Rachel becomes increasingly fixated on Lily's absence, she finds herself breaking fragile trusts and confronting impossible choices she never thought she'd face.

It wasn't supposed to happen like this.

About the Author:

Hazel Barkworth grew up in Stirlingshire and North Yorkshire before studying English at Oxford. She then moved to London where she spent her days working as a cultural consultant, and her nights dancing in a pop band at glam rock clubs. Hazel is a graduate of both the Oxford University MST in Creative Writing and the Curtis Brown Creative Novel-Writing course. She now works in Oxford, where she lives with her partner. Heatstroke is her first novel.

THE ACCIDENTAL LOVE LETTER

Olivia Beirne

When Bea receives a love letter that isn't addressed to her, the temptation to open it and reply is too strong - changing her quiet, lonely life forever.

The hilarious, uplifting novel from bestselling author Olivia Beirne is for fans of Sophie Kinsella, Zoë Folbigg and Marian Keyes.

Bea used to feel confident, outgoing and fun, but she's not sure where that person went.

Over the last few months, she's found herself becoming reclusive and withdrawn. And despite living with her two best friends, she's never felt lonelier. To make things worse, she's become so dependent on her daily routine, she's started to slip out of everyone else's.

But when a mysterious battered envelope covered in stars lands on her doormat, Bea wonders if she could find the courage to open it.

It isn't addressed to her, but it could be... if you squinted...

About the Author:

Olivia Beirne is the bestselling author of The List That Changed My Life and lives in Buckinghamshire. She has worked as a waitress, a pottery painter and a casting assistant, but being a writer is definitely her favourite job yet.

THE KINDNESS PROJECT

Sam Binnie

The Trouble With Goats and Sheep meets Amelie in this gorgeous and uplifting novel that celebrates kindness and community.

When Bea Adlington unexpectedly dies, it falls to her daughter Alice to sort out her affairs. And so Alice finds herself in her mother's ramshackle cottage in the heart of a tiny Cornish village with a plan to clear out and sell up as soon as possible - but it turns out that her mother had other ideas.

Unlike Alice, who has always preferred books to people, Bea was the village's unofficial agony aunt - she knew everyone, and helped everyone - and she has left Alice a series of letters she calls 'The Kindness Project', each one an unfinished task to complete around the village on her behalf.

Though it goes against her nature, Alice sees it as her duty to complete the project and so she tackles these tasks, one by one: a widow who has shut herself off from the world, a feud between lifelong friends, a frustrated young mum, it falls to Alice to help them out. It's a bumpy ride, but Alice finds herself drawn ever closer into village life, and it might just be what she needs to face up to the loss of her mother and maybe even open her own clamped-shut heart...

About the Author:

Sam Binnie was the 2005 winner of the Harper's/Orange Prize Short Story Competition, and lives with her husband and three children. She is still embarrassed that she forced people to camp at her wedding and that she never even saw the faces of the paramedics who half-delivered her first child, and is terrified that any future home she buys will be on the site of an old plague pit.

THE SECRET LIFE OF ALBERT ENTWHISTLE Matt Cain

A charming, heart-warming, surprising and completely unforgettable commercial love story starring a gay protagonist searching for his long lost love, by journalist and LGBTQ+ activist Matt Cain.

Perfect for fans of The Unlikely Pilgrimage of Harold Fry, the novels of Jonathan Harvey and Beautiful Thing.

It's never too late to start your life's big adventure ...

Albert Entwistle was a postman. It was one of the few things everyone knew about him. And it was one of the few things he was comfortable with people knowing.

64-year-old Albert Entwistle is a lonely postie in a quiet town in Northern England. He's just learned he'll be forced to retire at his next birthday. With no friends and nothing to look forward to, he realises it's finally time to be honest about who he is. He must learn to ask for what he wants, and find the courage to look for the man that, many years ago, he lost - but has never forgotten . . .

About the Author:

Matt Cain was born in Bury and brought up in Bolton. He spent ten years making arts and entertainment programmes for ITV before stepping in front of the camera in 2010 to become Channel 4 News' first ever culture editor. His first novel, Shot Through the Heart, was published in 2014 and his second, Nothing But Trouble, followed in 2015. The Madonna of Bolton published in the UK in July 2018.

THE BEST THINGS Mel Giedroyc

A feel-good comedy about the ups and downs of life, told with all the witty warmth and brilliantly wry sense of humour.

The joyous debut novel from much-loved comedian, writer, actor and presenter Mel Giedroyc.

Sally Parker is clinging on for dear life.

Her husband has lost his business, and their savings, in one fell swoop. Her bank card has been declined. The family home, as it turns out, is not actually theirs, and the landlord is at the door. Now her daughter has gone AWOL.

All Sally wants to do is lie down.

What does an ordinary woman do when the bottom falls out?

Sally Parker is about to surprise everybody.

Most of all herself.

Funny, warm, life-affirming and true, The Best Things is a big-hearted tale of failing, falling and trying to scramble back up.

About the Author:

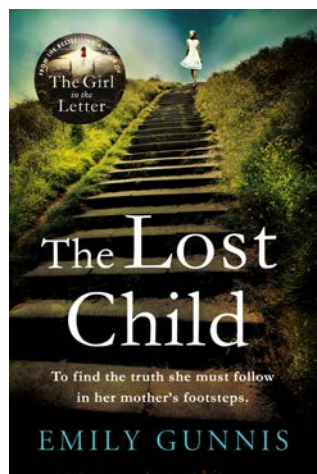

Mel Giedroyc has been warming the UK's hearts for over twenty years. Much loved as a comedian, writer, actor and presenter, Mel, alongside her comedy partner Sue Perkins, has written for French and Saunders and presented television shows such as The Great British Bake Off and Children in Need. She has presented BBC's Eurovision Song Contest and the new version of The Generation Game. Mel can be heard on radio where she presents The Mel Giedroyc Show on Magic FM. Mel appeared on stage in the West End production of Stephen Sondheim's musical Company.

THE LOST CHILDEmily Gunnis

The author of the bestselling The Girl in the Letter is back with a twisting, nail-biting and heartwrenching novel of a decades-old murder and a shocking secret.

Some novels hold you in their spell and never let you go...

A tragic death. A missing baby. A long-kept secret...

1960. Thirteen-year-old Rebecca lives in fear of her father's temper. As a storm batters Seaview Cottage one night, she hears a visitor at the door and a violent argument ensues. By the time the police arrive, Rebecca's parents are dead and the visitor has fled. No one believes Rebecca heard a stranger downstairs...

2014. Iris, a journalist, is sent to cover the story of a new mother on the run with her desperately ill baby. But fatefully the trail leads to the childhood home of Iris's own mother, Rebecca...Seaview Cottage.

As Iris races to unravel what happened the night Rebecca's parents were killed, it's time for Seaview Cottage to give up its secrets.

About the Author:

Emily Gunnis previously worked in TV drama and lives in Brighton with her young family. She is one of the four daughters of Sunday Times bestselling author Penny Vincenzi.

HER LAST PROMISEKathryn Hughes

A woman searches for her missing mother in this captivating story of love, heartbreak and forgiveness from the bestselling author Kathryn Hughes.

A gripping, heartwrenching story of how hope can blossom in the ruins of tragedy and of the redeeming power of love.

Tara Richards was just a girl when she lost her mother. Years later when Tara receives a letter from a London solicitor its contents shake her to the core. Someone has left her a key to a safe deposit box. In the box lies an object that will change everything Tara thought she knew and lead her on a journey to deepest Spain in search of the answers that have haunted her for forty years.

Violet Skye regrets her decision to travel abroad leaving her young daughter behind. As the sun dips below the mountains, she reminds herself she is doing this for their future. Tonight, 4th June 1978, will be the start of a new life for them. This night will indeed change Violet's destiny, in the most unexpected of ways...

About the Author:

Kathryn Hughes was born in Altrincham, near Manchester. After completing a secretarial course, Kathryn met her husband and they married in Canada. For twenty-nine years they ran a business together, raised two children and travelled when they could to places such as India, Singapore, South Africa and New Zealand. Kathryn and her family now make their home in a village near Manchester.

SUMMER AT SANCASTLE COTTAGE

Christina Jones

It's a glorious summer in Firefly Common, the old-fashioned seaside village where Kitty Appleby (almost forty, recently-single, a bit of a Julia Roberts look-alike) and her friends, Apollo and Jemini, rent the delightful Sandcastle Cottage.

But life is far from being all sunshine and lollipops as Kitty's elderly neighbours, the kindly but overbearing Mr H and his wife, keep reminding her, very soon Mavis Mulholland - the owner of Sandcastle Cottage - will return from her lottery-winning round-the-world-cruise, and will want her home back.

Kitty, Apollo, and Jemini found themselves desperately on the brink of homelessness just before Christmas, and having to face this again is devastating. And the idea of leaving Firefly Common without finding out more about the enigmatic, mysterious Vinny pulls at Kitty's heart.

As the scorchingly gorgeous Firefly Common summer unfurls, as Apollo and Jemini try to make their dreams come true, as Kitty tries hard not to fall spectacularly stupidly in love, and as Mavis Mulholland's cruise ship nears port - who will end up living happily ever after? And where...?

About the Author:

Christina Jones has written all her life (as well as having millions of Proper Jobs including factory worker, secretary, nightclub dancer, blood donor attendant, barmaid, waitress, civil servant and fruit picker) and is the best-selling and award-winning author of 27 books.

HOME GROWN

Annie MacManus

If you spend your life giving everything to the ones you love, do you risk losing yourself along the way?

Home Grown is a poignant and powerful reading group novel about family. It will appeal to fans of Celeste Ng's Everything I Never Told You.

Home Grown is both a powerful coming of age novel and an intimate family study. It's about home - and what a difficult place that can sometimes be.

Belfast, 2018: 34-year-old Mary McConnell disappears one Saturday morning, and her 17-year-old son Joe doesn't know where to begin looking for her.

Belfast, 1990: Mary McConnell's mother died when Mary was just two years old. She grows up longing for information about the woman she never knew. Her brother Sean is barely old enough to remember and her father too grief-stricken to tell her anything much. Mary is the one who has to hold the family together.

Home Grown takes us down the challenging road of Mary's life, whilst simultaneously following her son's search for his missing mother. It's a gritty, affecting novel about family, trauma, grief, addiction, and motherhood. And it asks the question - if you spend your life giving everything to the ones you love; do you risk losing yourself along the way?

About the Author:

Annie MacManus is an internationally renowned DJ, broadcaster, events curator and more. Annie presents the most influential show on BBC Radio 1 and can be seen on the biggest stages of music festivals around the UK and the world. She also produces her own podcast, Finding Annie, 'recorded in a shed at the bottom of her garden'.

THE PERFECT SISTER

Zoe Miller

A gripping story of deceit, betrayal and revenge by the author of The Visitor, for readers of Liane Moriarty and Adele Parks.

Once inseparable, years of resentment and jealousy have driven Alice and Holly apart. But, though they barely speak these days, Alice knows her sister is hiding something.

When she hears that a discovery at a soon-to-be-demolished apartment building has led police to re-open an 'accidental death' case, Alice thinks nothing of it. Until someone knocks at her door, with questions about Holly...

Alice doesn't believe her sister is capable of involvement in anything so sinister. But when she tries to contact Holly, she can't be reached...

Forced to dig through the past in order to uncover the truth, Alice also starts to uncover years of Holly's secrets - and to doubt her innocence. And as the evidence mounts up, she has a choice to make: does she want to help her sister clear her name, even if Alice will end up paying the price?

About the Author:

Zoe Miller is married with three children. She lives in Dublin. Her novels include The Visitor, A Husband's Confession, The Compromise and A House Full of Secrets.

WHAT ARE FRIENDS FOR?

Lizzie O'Hagan

Everyone gives their friends advice when it comes to dating, but what happens when it all goes wrong?

Sliding Doors meets The Flatshare and One Day in December in this sweeping romantic comedy for the digital age, perfect for fans of Josie Silver and Beth O'Leary.

Eve doesn't have time for dating, but having watched her best friend and flatmate have her heart broken one too many times, she reluctantly volunteers to play her Cupid.

Max is too much of a hopeless romantic to find the algorithms of online dating anything other than clinical, but he lives with his romantically-challenged best friend who desperately needs his advice.

And after all, what are friends for?

As Eve and Max become more involved in their best friends' relationship, they quickly realise there is a fine line between instruction and imitation, especially when they find they can't stop thinking about their best friend's date...

About the Author:

Lizzie O'Hagan studied Law before going into publishing, where she now works as a book editor at an independent press. She writes and paints in her spare time and can usually be found behind a laptop in one of Bermondsey Street's many coffee shops near her house share in London Bridge.

12 HOURS TO SAY I LOVE YOU

Olivia Poulet & Laurence Dobiesz

An original love story from a voice that is fresh and intelligent, funny and tender. Ideal for readers of The Flatshare and The Sight of You

From the first time Steve saw Pippa play Juliet in St Vincent's Secondary production in Woking, 1997, he was smitten. Pippa only had eyes for her Romeo and didn't notice the shy Second Watchman as she took her place in the spotlight.

Ten years pass and their paths cross again. A connection is made and a friendship begins that will remain a constant through the highs of their first career breaks, the lows of badly judged relationships and the pain of losing a father. Until it becomes obvious to Pippa that Steve, her best friend, is more than just a friend.

Ten years later, Pippa lies in an induced coma after a road accident. At her bedside Steve asks himself – where was she going, driving so erratically on her own? How has it come to this? The doctor asks Steve if he can talk to his wife - the first 12 hours are the most critical and patients have been known to respond to the voice of their loved ones. A nurse suggests Steve tells Pippa the truth: that he loves her... that he has always loved her. And why.

So Steve begins to tell Pippa the story of their relationship. As the 12 hours slip away, he tells her things he's never told her, things he should have told her, things he is desperate for her to know. Is Pippa listening? And, if so, can she find her way back to him?

About the Authors: Olivia Poulet and Lawrence Dobiesz are writers and actors. They have written together for radio and screen. #blessed, a comedy drama love story, was written by them for radio and broadcast on BBC Radio 4 last summer.

PRIVATE LIES

Muna Shehadi

A compelling series of family secrets, romance, and self-discovery, perfect for fans of Lucinda Riley and Santa Montefiore.

The three daughters of stunning but unstable movie star Jillian Croft and her famous acting-teacher husband, Daniel Braddock, grew up being treated as special, even after their mother's tragic death. Years later, their world is overturned when they discover a medical document suggesting Jillian could never have given birth to them.

Whilst Olivia and Eve insist there's some mistake, quirky, impulsive middle sister Rosalind can't leave the matter alone. Rosalind has always felt separate from her poised, successful sisters. If she has a different birth mother, she wants to know.

Investigation leads her to Leila Allerton, an opera singer from New Jersey with a vibrant, close-knit family to whom Rosalind aches to belong. At first its members warmly welcome their new neighbour - but circumstances and personalities soon clash, leaving a bewildered Rosalind unsure how they'll feel when they discover her true reason for seeking them out...

THE SUMMER OF TAKING CHANCES Lynne Shelby

Curl up with this charming summer romance, full of warmth, hope, second chances. The final book in the glitzy and glamorous Theatreland series.

When Emma Stevens was seventeen, she and Jake Murray were both living in the small seaside village of South Quay, dreaming of glittering careers on the stage. Jake left the village to go to drama school, and the following year, Emma planned to do the same...

Ten years later, Jake is living in London, a successful and well-known actor, while Emma is still living a quiet, uneventful life in South Quay, and working in a local hotel. Her ambitions to become a professional actress abandoned, she is an enthusiastic member of the village amateur dramatics society, and barely remembers the dreams she and Jake once shared.

Then Jake returns to South Quay for the summer...

About the Author:

Lynne Shelby writes contemporary women's fiction and romance. Her debut novel, French Kissing won the Accent Press and Woman magazine Writing Competition. When not writing or reading, Lynne can usually be found at the theatre or exploring a foreign city with her writer's notebook, camera and sketchbook in hand. She lives in London with her husband and has three adult children who live nearby.

UNFILTERED Sophie White

Can Ali and Shelly navigate the stormy waters of the Instagram world and keep their integrity in tact?

When Ali Jones faked a pregnancy to gain more Instagram followers, it should have made her a pariah on the insta-scene but it turns out that her followers love a bit of drama and now she's more popular than ever. So when Amy Donoghue, social media manager extraordinaire steps in to rehabilitate her image, Ali realises she may have to wade once more into the grubby insta-hole. With her ex, Sam, still ignoring her and her mother Mini having a mild grief-induced psychotic break (her scheme for scattering Miles' ashes seems not only bonkers but borderline illegal), Ali's got little else to cling on to but #sponcon and #ootds.

Meanwhile Shelly is trying to settle into her new life as a mum-of-two while being held hostage by her mysterious insta-stalker whose sole objective is to keep Shelly on Instagram. But with her fellow Mummy Influencer friends @HolisticHazel immersed in creating WYND festival (her answer to the Goop Summit) and @PollysFewBits being as non-descript as ever, Shelly must get to the bottom of it herself.

When Ali starts attending Catfishers Anonymous as a part of Amy's plan for Image Rehab, she discovers some information that may just help Shelly ...

THE SILENT GUEST

Elle Connell

Seven friends. A castle in the woods. An uninvited guest...

A page-turning thriller perfect for fans of Ruth Ware's In a Dark, Dark Wood and Lucy Foley's The Hunting Party.

Seven friends gather at a castle in the Scottish Borders. One last girls' weekend before Georgina's wedding. Near the castle, through a path in the woods, is a loch. After a few bottles of Prosecco, the girls head down to the water to take photos. The loch is wild, lonely, and stunningly beautiful. They set their camera to self-timer and take some group shots. Later, looking back at the pictures, they see something impossible.

Behind them, eyes wide, a small, drenched boy emerges from the water.

How did he get there; where is he now; and what does he want?

The girls thought they knew each other's darkest secrets, but one of them has been hiding something terrible. Consumed by grief, she's been waiting for the perfect moment to wreak her revenge...

About the Author: Elle Connell studied English at the University of St Andrews, and later Shakespearean Studies at Kings College London and Shakespeare's Globe. She has worked as a researcher for Al Jazeera television, a freelance writer while living in Spain, and later as the Cruise Coordinator for the National Trust for Scotland.

A DEATH IN HOSPITAL

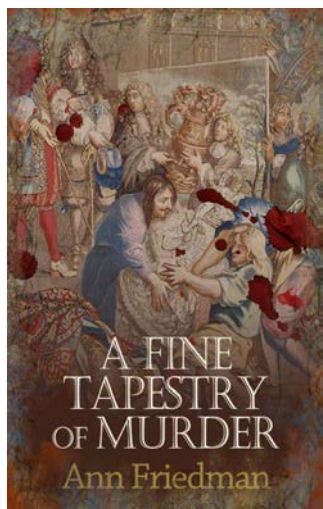

Caroline Dunford

Book 15 in The Euphemia Martins Murder Mystery series

After a crash course in nursing, Euphemia is sent off alone to act as a VAD (Voluntary Aid Detachment) at a Red Cross hospital. Merry accompanies her. Fitzroy wants her to uncover some information that he believes one of the patients from the front is concealing. However, both Merry and Euphemia become caught up in the lives of their patients and the efforts of the Red Cross to prolong life. Euphemia becomes inspired by their neutrality and willingness to help anyone. But then a series of mysterious deaths takes place. Rory arrives as a patient, badly injured. He and Euphemia finally make peace while solving the unexplained demises. Together they also uncover what Fitzroy needs to know, but decide it is an abuse of the principles of the Red Cross to forward the information to anyone. Instead Euphemia tells Fitzroy she has failed in her mission.

About the Author:

Having previously worked as a journalist and then a psychotherapist, Caroline Dunford enjoyed many years helping other people shape their personal life stories before taking the plunge and writing her own stories. She has now published almost thirty books in varying genres, ranging from historical crime, to thrillers and romance, including her much-loved Euphemia Martins mysteries and a new series set around WWII featuring Euphemia's perceptive daughter Hope Stapleford. Caroline also teaches creative writing courses part-time at the University of Edinburgh.

A FINE TAPESTRY OF MURDER

Ann Friedman

A compelling historical murder mystery set amongst the artists in seventeenth-century Paris. For fans of C.J. Sansom and S.J. Parris.

Paris, 1676. When a body washes up on the banks of the Bièvre river, a young woman finds herself embroiled in an intricate murder case.

At first it seems mere coincidence that the dead man was discovered outside the Royal Manufactory of the Gobelins, home to a community of artists and craftsmen. He was not one of them, after all. But Anne-Marie, a sculptor's wife, soon realises that the victim may well be known within the walls of the Gobelins - and that the killer might be amongst them.

With the police apparently disinterested, it is a mystery that is hers alone to solve. Anne-Marie's investigations will take her from the unsavoury slums of the Ile Notre-Dame to the grand ducal residences of the Place Royale. But who can she truly trust on the streets of Paris?

About the Author:

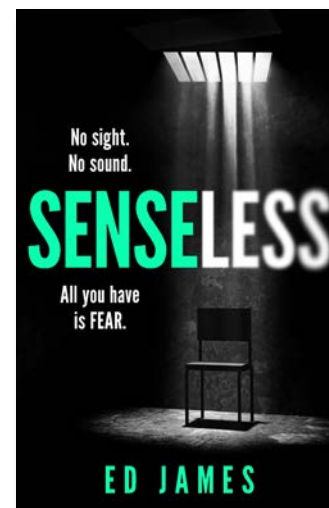

American museum curator, publicist and lecturer, Ann Friedman has published numerous articles on art and artists in various academic journals. Her first novel, An Artist in her Own Right was a semi-finalist on the 2008 Amazon.com Breakthrough Novel Contest. She lives in Kansas, in the USA.

I SHOT THE DEVIL Ruth McIver

'The press only got hold of a few photos...within a year, both boys would be dead.'

A dark, twisty thriller of small town buried secrets for readers of The Dry, The Girls and The Secret History.

Twenty years ago, the devil visited the woods around Newport, Long Island, claiming the lives of two boys. A local youth was charged with murder. Case closed.

Now journalist Erin Sloane has been commissioned to dig deeper into the story and is sent notes from someone long forgotten. But can she trust what she unearths? And how can she unravel what happened when she has her own secrets to hide?

Rich with the sense of a community imploding, buried secrets, corruption and racism, I Shot the Devil is a stunning portrayal of teenage hysteria and sexuality.

It was a game. But then it got real.

About the Author:

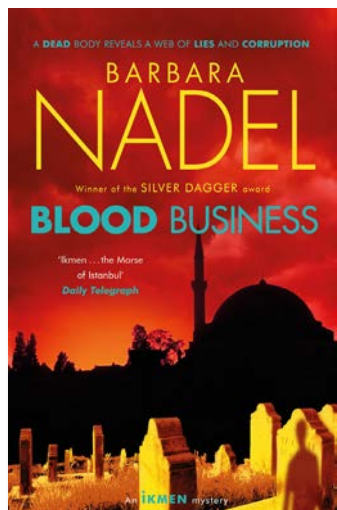

Ruth McIver completed her PhD at Curtin University and is an ERC (Early Career Researcher) working in the arena of true crime inspired fiction. Ruth has written reviews, articles and interviews for The Sunday Age, The Big Issue and Cordite, and numerous other online and print forums. BLOOD BUSINESS

Barbara Nadel

Shocking secrets are revealed when a woman's body is exhumed... The gripping twenty-second mystery in the bestselling Ikmen series by Barbara Nadel, the Silver Dagger Award-winning author of A Knife to the Heart and Incorruptible.

Brothers Ugur and Lokman Bulutare are locked in a bitter inheritance battle and need a sample of their mother's DNA to contest her Will. But when her body is exhumed, her corpse is found to be missing and a fresh body, with its heart removed, has been put in her grave. Assigned to the case, Inspector Mehmet Süleyman quickly realises that the heart has been illegally harvested, and his team has a murder inquiry on its hands.

Meanwhile, retired inspector Çetin Ikmen is tracking down a missing person: Sevval Kalkan, a once-famous actress, who has joined an underground movement called the Moral Maze, whose mission is to help the destitute living on Istanbul's streets. The unidentified body in the grave cannot be Sevval's, but her shocking reappearance leads Ikmen to fear that she, too, is a victim of organ harvesting...

Joining forces, Süleyman and Ikmen confront Istanbul's darkest underbelly to expose the horrifying truth of a city in crisis.

About the Author:

Trained as an actress, Barbara Nadel used to work in mental health services. Born in the East End of London, she now writes full time and has been a visitor to Turkey for over twenty years. THE GOOD SAMARITAN

C J Parsons

A gripping emotional thriller about a child who goes missing, perfect for fans of Erin Kinsley and Jane Corry.

YOUR CHILD GOES MISSING. THEN A STRANGER BRINGS HER HOME...

When four-year-old Sofia is taken from the park, her mother, Carrie, is beside herself with worry. Carrie has a condition which means she struggles to read facial expressions, so she is terrified she missed something that put her daughter in danger.

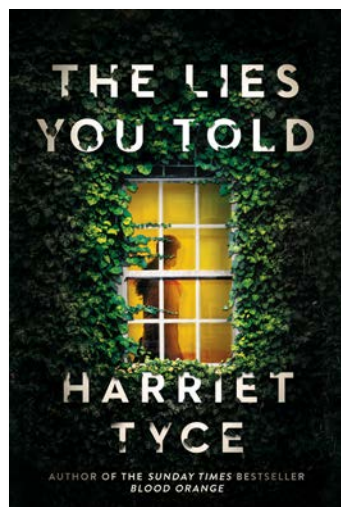

But just days later, Sofia is found unharmed. The police immediately suspect Josh, the man who found Sofia, but with no evidence against him they are forced to let him go without charges.

Josh is keen to make sure Sofia is safe and well and Carrie is charmed by his kindness. But with the identity of Sofia's abductor still unknown, how much should Carrie trust those who have offered their help?

Are they good Samaritans or has Carrie missed the warning signs?

About the Author: C J Parsons was born in Britain and grew up in Canada. She worked as a newspaper reporter at Canada's Globe and Mail before moving to Hong Kong, where she became a columnist at The South China Morning Post. In that role, she spear-headed the newspaper's Campaign on Open Justice, which led to a government inquiry, changed the legal system and won an Amnesty International award.

After returning to Britain, she moved into television news, working as a broadcast journalist for the BBC. She now works at CNN International. She lives in north London with her 11-year-old daughter.

THE LIES YOU TOLD

Harriet Tyce

Shocking, dark, addictive - Lies You Told is the compulsive new psychological thriller from Harriet Tyce, author of Blood Orange. Perfect for fans of Apple Tree Yard, Big Little Lies and Anatomy of a Scandal.

Has she left her child in the care of a killer?

Sadie has moved back to London so her daughter can attend the exclusive school her domineering father has secured her a place at. It's highly sought-after and highly competitive - just like the other mothers, Sadie soon discovers.

While she's trying to get her daughter settled and navigate the fraught politics of the school gate, Sadie is also trying to reclaim a position in her old legal chambers - she used to practice as a criminal barrister. She's given the junior brief on a scandalous case involving a male teacher and his student. It's an opportunity to prove herself, but will she let a dangerous flirtation cloud her professional judgement? And will her sudden close friendship with another mother prevent her from seeing the truth - and the threat that she's inviting into her home?

Praise for Blood Orange:

HYMN TO MURDER

Paul Doherty

1312. The shadows around the English Crown grow ever darker in the twenty-first instalment of the much-loved Hugh Corbett series by Paul Doherty.

An enthralling medieval mystery not to be missed by fans of C. J. Sansom, E. M. Powell and Bernard Cornwell.

Secrets simmer in the lonely wasteland of Dartmoor.

Spring, 1312. At Malmaison Manor, Lord Simon is concealing a dark secret - one he arrogantly assumes will never catch up with him. But someone knows about the crime he committed and they've found a way to make him pay. And he's not alone. When he is found mysteriously slain, other deaths soon follow. Meanwhile, ships on the Devonshire coast are being deliberately wrecked, their crews slaughtered, their cargoes plundered.

Sir Hugh Corbett and Lord Simon are bound by the Secret Chancery and their search for one precious ruby - the Lacrima Christi. So, when Corbett learns of Lord Simon's death, he is once more dragged into a tangled web of lies and intrigue and it's not long before secrets of his own start to surface. As the Hymn to Murder reaches its crescendo, can Corbett confront his past and live to see another day?

About the Author:

Paul Doherty was born in Middlesbrough. He studied History at Liverpool and Oxford Universities and obtained a doctorate for his thesis on Edward II and Queen Isabella. He is now headmaster of a school in north-east London and lives with his family in Essex.

WHILE PARIS SLEPT

Ruth Druart

A beautiful, powerful and unforgettable portrait of the brutality of war and the tenacity of love, in the tradition of Early One Morning by Virginia Bailey and M. L. Stedman's The Light Between Oceans

1953. Jean-Luc is a man on the run from his past. The scar on his face a small price to pay for surviving the horrors of Nazi occupation. Now, he has a new life in California, a family. He never expected the past to come knocking on his door.

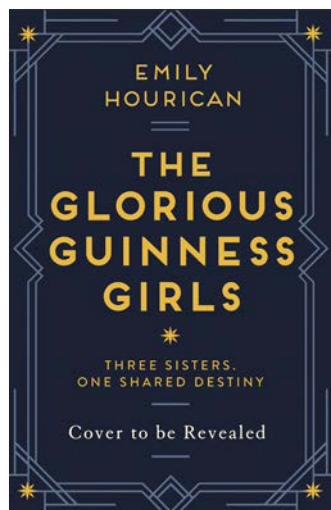

Paris 1944. A young Jewish woman's past is torn away in a heartbeat. Herded on to a train bound for Auschwitz, in an act of desperation she entrusts her most precious possession to a stranger. All she has left now is hope.

On a darkened platform two destinies become entangled. Their choice will change the future in ways neither could have imagined.

Beginning on an ordinary day and ending on an extraordinary one, While Paris Slept will move you and remind you of the remarkable wire of resilience threaded through the human soul.

About the Author:

Ruth Druart grew up on the Isle of Wight, moving away at the age of eighteen to study psychology at Leicester University. She has lived in Paris since 1993, where she has followed a career in teaching. She has recently taken a sabbatical, so that she can follow her dream of writing full-time.

ARIADNEJennifer Saint

In one of the most famous Greek myths, Ariadne betrayed her father, King Minos, to help Theseus defeat the Minotaur. But Theseus in turn betrayed her. This is her story.

A mesmerising retelling of the ancient Greek myth, perfect for fans of Circe, A Song of Achilles and The Silence of the Girls.

As Princesses of Crete and daughters of the fear-some King Minos, Ariadne and her sister Phaedra grow up hearing the hoofbeats and bellows of the Minotaur echo from the Labyrinth beneath the palace. The Minotaur - Minos's greatest shame and Ariadne's brother - demands blood every year.

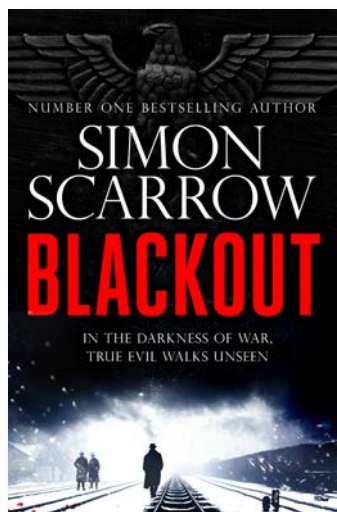

When Theseus, Prince of Athens, arrives in Crete as a sacrifice to the beast, Ariadne falls in love with him. But helping Theseus kill the monster means betraying her family and country, and Ariadne knows only too well that in a world ruled by mercurial gods - drawing their attention can cost you everything.

In a world where women are nothing more than the pawns of powerful men, will Ariadne's decision to betray Crete for Theseus ensure her happy ending? Or will she find herself sacrificed for her lover's ambition?

Ariadne gives a voice to the forgotten women of one of the most famous Greek myths, and speaks to their strength in the face of angry, petulant Gods. Beautifully written and completely immersive, this is an exceptional debut novel.

About the Author:

Due to a lifelong fascination with Ancient Greek mythology, Jennifer Saint read Classical Studies at King's College, London. She spent the next 13 years as an English teacher, sharing a love of literature and creative writing with her students. Ariadne is her first novel.

THE CHILD ON PLATFORM ONE

Gill Thompson

Inspired by the extraordinary true events of the Kindertransport, which rescued Jewish children from Nazi Germany, a heartrending novel about two mothers and the little girl whose life they save.

TO SAVE HER CHILD, A MOTHER MUST MAKE AN IMPOSSIBLE CHOICE.

Inspired by the children who escaped the Holocaust. Perfect for readers of The Tattooist of Auschwitz by Heather Morris and My Name is Eva by Suzanne Goldring.

Prague 1939. Young mother Eva has a secret from her past. When the Nazis invade, Eva knows the only way to keep her daughter Miriam safe is to send her away - even if it means never seeing her again.

But when Eva is taken to a concentration camp, her secret is at risk of being exposed.

In London, Pamela volunteers to help find places for the Jewish children arrived from Europe. Befriending one unclaimed little girl, Pamela brings her home.

Then when her son enlists in the RAF, Pamela realises how easily her own world could come crashing down...

About the Author:

Gill Thompson is an English lecturer who completed an MA in Creative Writing at Chichester University. Her debut novel, The Oceans Between Us, was a No. 1 digital bestseller and has been highly acclaimed. She lives with her family in West Sussex and teaches English to college students.

THE CUCKOO

Leo Carew

Leo Carew's much-lauded Under the Northern Sky trilogy draws to its spellbinding conclusion in a tale of sacrifice, courage, and a battle to end them all...

Though apparently victorious in their battle for primacy over the Sutherners, the Anakim find themselves unable to celebrate. The young Black Lord, Roper Kynortasson, is dealing with the aftermath of a great betrayal that has seen the death of one of his greatest fighters; and the dark influence of the Kryptea is spreading like cancer through his people, threatening to destroy everything he has fought for.

And when he discovers that the young upstart Bellamus and his exiled queen Aramilla are raising a powerful army to reclaim their lands once and for all, Roper realises he is holding on to his victory, and his life, by a thread - and that thread is very close to snapping...

About the Author:

Leo Carew is a Cambridge graduate of Biological Anthropology, currently studying medicine at Barts and the London Medical School. PLAN FOR THE WORST (St Mary's 11) Jodi Taylor

The eleventh book in the bestselling Chronicles of St Mary's series. If you love Jasper Fforde, Ben Aaronovitch or Doctor Who, you won't be able to resist Jodi Taylor.

I would have trusted this man with my life. Until a couple of days ago, anyway.

You know what they say – hope for the best, but plan for the worst.

Max is quite accustomed to everything going wrong. She's St Mary's, after all – disaster is her default state. Not. A. Problem.

And then, after one fateful night at the Tower of London in 1483, everything she thought she knew for sure comes crashing down around her.

Too late for plans. The worst has happened. And who can Max trust now?

THE CHRONICLES OF ST MARY'S SERIES

The St Mary's Series follows a group of tea-soaked, special forces-trained historian disaster magnets as they hurtle their way around History, experiencing it in real-time.

Headline acquired the series from Accent Press and it has so-far sold over 900,000 copies and garnered thousands of 5* reviews on Amazon and fans around the world.

HARD TIME (Time Police 2) Jodi Taylor

Team Weird are back causing havoc in the Time Police in this irresistible spin-off series by international bestseller Jodi Taylor, author of The Chronicles of St Mary's.

If you love Doctor Who, Ben Aaronovitch and Jasper Fforde, you'll love the Time Police.

A time slip in Versailles, problems in the Ice Age and illegal time travellers in need of rescue. Must be a job for the Time Police.

Luke, Jane and Matthew are back and ready to cause havoc - inadvertently or otherwise - in their latest adventures.

About the Author:

Jodi Taylor is the author of the bestselling Chronicles of St Mary's series, the story of a bunch of disaster-prone historians who investigate major historical events in contemporary time. Do NOT call it time travel!

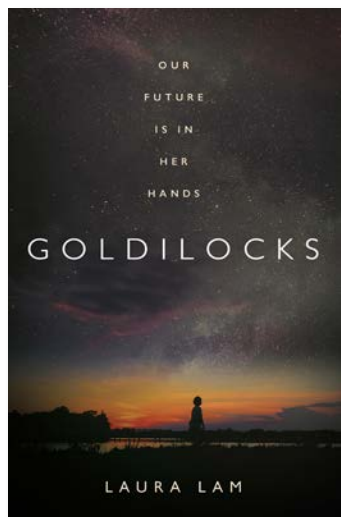

Born in Bristol and educated in Gloucester (facts both cities vigorously deny), she spent many years with her head somewhere else, much to the dismay of family, teachers and employers, before finally deciding to put all that daydreaming to good use and pick up a pen. She still has no idea what she wants to do when she grows up.

GOLDILOCKS

Laura Lam

A high-powered high-concept feminist dystopian thriller, that fans of The Power and The Martian will love

Ravaged by environmental disaster, greed and oppression, our planet is in crisis. The future of humanity hangs in the balance - and one woman can tip it over.

Despite increasing restrictions on the freedoms of women on Earth, Valerie Black is spearheading the first all-female mission to a planet in the Goldilocks Zone, where conditions are just right for human habitation.

It's humanity's last hope for survival, and Naomi, Valerie's surrogate daughter and second-in-command, has been waiting her whole life for an opportunity like this - to step out of Valerie's shadow and really make a difference.

But when things start going wrong on the ship, Naomi starts to suspect that someone on board is concealing a terrible secret - and realises time for life on Earth may be running out faster than they feared . . .

This is Station Eleven meets The Martian - a bold and thought-provoking new high-concept thriller

About the Author:

Laura Lam is the author of several science fiction books, including Radio 2 Book Club selection False Hearts. Originally from California, she now lives in Scotland with her husband, and currently teaches Creative Writing at Edinburgh Napier University.

HOW TO BREAK UP WITH FAST FASHION Lauren Bravo

A fun and practical guide to changing the way you shop

You probably know the statistics: global clothing production has roughly doubled in just 15 years, and every year an estimated 300,000 tonnes of used clothing ends up in UK landfill.

Fast fashion is the ultimate toxic relationship. It's bad news for the planet, our brains and our bank balances. We can't go on like this; our shopping habits need an overhaul.

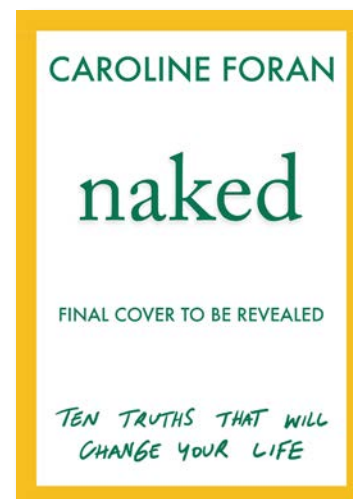

Journalist Lauren Bravo loves clothes more than anything, but she's called time on her affair with fast fashion in search of a slower, saner way of dressing. In this book, she'll help you do the same.

How To Break Up With Fast Fashion will help you to change your mindset, fall back in love with your wardrobe and embrace more sustainable ways of shopping - from the clothes swap to the charity shop. Full of refreshing honesty and realistic advice, Lauren will inspire you to repair, recycle and give your unloved items a new lease of life without sacrificing your style.

Because fashion belongs to everyone, but no outfit should cost us the earth.

About the Author:

Lauren Bravo is a freelance journalist who writes about fashion, popular culture, food, travel and feminism, for places like Grazia, Cosmopolitan, Stylist, easyJet Traveller, Time Out, the Telegraph and the Guardian. Her first book, What Would The Spice Girls Do? was published by Transworld in 2018. In 2019, Lauren went on a year-long fast fashion ban. She volunteers in a charity shop once a week (to get first dibs on all the best clothes). She is on Twitter and Instagram as @laurenbravo.

MIND THE GAP Dr. Karen Gurney

A book that turns everything you thought you knew about female sexuality on its head, with practical advice on how to bulletproof your sex life

Did you know that there is an orgasm gap of around 30% between heterosexual couples when they have sex?

In Mind The Gap, Dr Karen Gurney, a clinical psychologist and certified psychosexologist, explores not just this gap, but the gaps in our knowledge of so much of the most important new science around sex and desire.

In this book, you will learn that nearly everything that you've been led to believe about female sexuality isn't actually true. And that, despite what you might think, it is possible to simultaneously feel little to no spontaneous desire and have a happy and mutually satisfying sex life long term.

Exploring the mismatch between ideas about sex in our society and what the science tells us, Mind The Gap also explains how this disconnect lies at the root of many of our sexual problems.

Combining science with case studies, practical exercises and tips, this is a book for anyone who wants to better understand the mechanics of desire and futureproof their sex life, for life.

About the Author: Dr Karen Gurney is a highly specialised clinical psychologist and certified psychosexologist, and is a recognised national expert in the theory and practice of therapy around all aspects of sexual wellbeing and function. She is currently Lead Psychosexual Therapist at 56 Dean Street (Chelsea and Westminster Hospital NHS Foundation Trust), as well as Director of The Havelock Clinic, an independent sexual problems service based on Harley Street.

THE SKIN NERD 2 Jennifer Rock

Following on from the bestselling The Skin Nerd: Your Straight-talking guide to feeding, protecting and respecting your skin, comes the new best-seller from expert Jennifer Rock, aka The Skin Nerd.

From debunking 'beauty' myths, to learning to love the skin you have, to psychodermatology which examines the link between the mind and the skin and mental health, to skin routines for busy lives and how to become smarter at understanding skin care ingredients, this book is the next step to understanding and taking control of your life-long journey with your skin.

About the Author:

Jennifer Rock is an award-winning skin lecturer and a multi-award winning dermal facialist and aesthetician. She is the founder of The Skin Nerd online skin consultancy and the Cleanse Off Mitt makeup removal tool. She has lectured alongside world-renowned dermatologists such as Dr. Marc Ronert of IMAGE Skincare and Dr. Ahmar Khan, the co-creator of the London Harley Street Medical Hospital.

Jennifer realised her passion for skin health when she was brought for her first facial by her mother at the tender age of thirteen. After years of working as a skin therapist, lecturing worldwide and being the brand ambassador for multiple cosmetic skincare brands, she became The Skin Nerd, using social media to get skininformation out there, sometimes through the medium of song.

Nowadays, you'll find her standing at the helm of The Skin Nerd HQ, on television, in the pages of well-known publications and speaking on the radio. Her end goal is to put as many people as possible on the road to skin health.

THE PERSIANS Lloyd Llewellyn-Jones

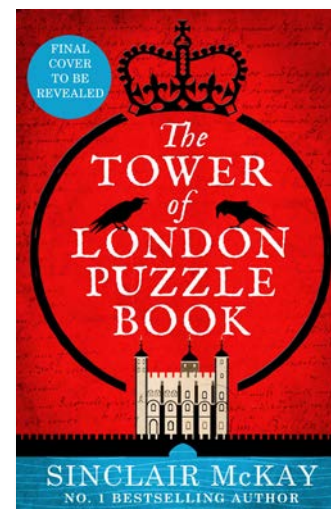

An authoritative overview of the history of the Persian Empire – told in an accessible and lively style, with an emphasis on crafting the history from original sources rather than the post-Roman Empire revisionist history that has prevailed.

The Great Kings of Persia ruled over the largest Empire of antiquity, stretching from Libya to the Steppes of Asia and from Ethiopia to Pakistan. At the heart of the Empire, in modern-day Iran, was the fabled palace-city of Persepolis where the Achaemenid monarchs held court in unparalleled grandeur. From here, Cyrus the Great, Darius, Xerxes, and their heirs passed laws, raised armies and received tribute as the earthly regents of the gods. But the Achaemenids were one of the great dysfunctional families in history. Brothers fought brothers for succession rights, wives and concubines plotted to promote their sons to the purple, and eunuchs and courtiers manipulated their way to the Great Kings' ears. The Persians is a saga of unrivalled power, ambition, betrayal, revenge, and murder – I, Claudius in an exotic Middle Eastern setting.

Professor Llewellyn-Jones unearths the magnificent splendour of ancient Persia, exploring its conquests and the extraordinary harmony it promoted throughout the Empire, together with the dramatic conflicts that tore the Persian royal family apart. In The Persians, a long-vanished world of warfare, ceremony and ritual, of the hunt and the feast, of palaces and tents, of magi and wise men, and of concubines and castrati, is vividly brought to life.

About the Author:

Lloyd Llewellyn-Jones is Professor of Ancient History at Cardiff University. He is one of the world's foremost experts on Persian history, and has written extensively on ancient Iran, the Near East, and ancient Greece. The Persians will be his first full-length narrative history book for the trade.

THE TOWER OF LONDON PUZZLE BOOK Sinclair McKay

Take a deep dive into the incredible history of the Tower of London and crack conundrums inspired by the incredible events that still haunt the Tower's walls to this day.

The newest puzzle book from the bestselling author of Bletchley Park Brainteasers...

The Tower of London is one of the world's most famous landmarks, with its iconic Beefeaters guarding the gates, Crown Jewels that remain securely within and ravens that flock to its walls. It holds a rich history of invasion, intrigue and murder that has captured imaginations for decades.

From the Norman Conquest to the Reformation and through the break with Rome; from the murder of a King to the execution of numerous queens; from exotic animals held captive, to Nazi spies in the 1940s, the Tower of London has seen a parade of pageantry, political violence and passionate revolution that is shocking and ultimately, fascinating.

Now it's time to use your smarts to take on brilliant brainteasers and incredible conundrums inspired by the Tower of London's greatest events. From logic games involving daring attempts on the Crown Jewels to decoding messages smuggled around the Tower by its famous prisoners, to finally discovering what happened to the princes murdered in their sleep, this book will be a maze of additively brilliant challenges that will take you through the most secret and sacred recesses of this extraordinary London citadel.

About the Author:

Sinclair McKay is the author of the Sunday Times bestseller Bletchley Park Brainteasers as well as the bestselling Secret Life of Bletchley Park. He writes for the Spectator and the Telegraph and spends much of his life eyebrow-deep in dusty archives!

TRUTH: A Brief History of Total Bullsh*t

Tom Phillips

A hilarious journey through the most bizarre and brilliant lies told by humans through the ages, from the author of *HUMANS: A Brief History of How We F*cked It All Up*

This is a book about TRUTH - and all the ingenious ways, throughout history, that we've managed to avoid it.

We live in a 'post-truth' age, we're told. The US has a president who openly lies on a daily basis (or who doesn't even know what's true, and doesn't care). The internet has turned our everyday lives into a misinformation battleground. People don't trust experts any more.

But was there ever really a golden age of truth-telling? As the editor of the UK's leading independent fact-checker, Tom Phillips deals with complete bollocks every day. Here, he tells the hilarious story of how we humans have spent history lying to each other - and ourselves - and asks an important question: how can humanity move towards a truthier future?

About the Author:

Tom Phillips is the editor of Full Fact, Britain's leading independent fact-checking organisation. Previously he was the editorial director of BuzzFeed UK, where he divided his time between very serious reporting on important issues... and making jokes.

HOT MESS

Dr. Matt Winning

A hilarious guide to saving the planet.

We are currently facing a global Climate Emergency. I'm sure you've noticed. But why does the end of the world need to be depressing? This book Hot Mess aims to both lighten the mood and enlighten readers on climate change.

"It's getting hot in here. So relocate your homes," as Nelly once sang. The planet is warming faster than at any other time in human history. The causes are man-made and the irreversible impacts will change all our lives and the future of humanity forever.

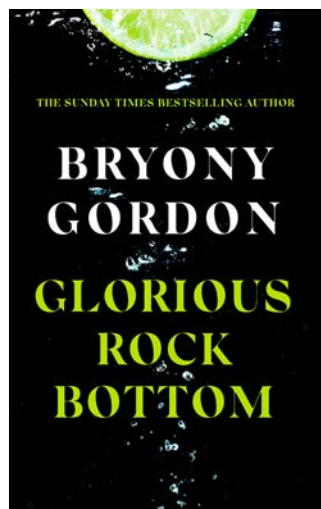

Everyone wants to know why it's happening and what they can do to save the world. However, climate change is a bit like doing your tax return - complicated, terrifying, insurmountable, and, if we're quite honest, rather boring. Therefore, many ordinary people (quite rightly) simply zone out or watch another episode of Great British Bake Off. So how can we solve it? Cakes! Sorry I got distracted.

Hot Mess engages readers on the biggest issue of our time in a humorous and accessible manner with simple and often stupid analogies and solutions that are grounded in real science. In the book, Dr Matt Winning lists the most common questions he gets asked about climate change and answers them in a bitesize, comedic way with just the right amount of nerdiness.

But most importantly the readers will find climate change funny, and if we can do that, well, we can do bloody anything.

About the Author:

Dr Matt Winning is a stand-up comedian with a PhD in climate change policy and an environmental researcher at University College London in the Institute for Sustainable Resources. He regularly publishes academic papers and gives public lectures on tackling climate change. Matt has written and performed three critically acclaimed stand-up shows about climate change at the Edinburgh Festival Fringe and has taken these to many science & comedy festivals and on tour.

GLORIOUS ROCK BOTTOM

Bryony Gordon

Bryony Gordon is a respected journalist, a number-one bestselling author and an award-winning mental health campaigner. She is also an alcoholic. This is a sobriety memoir like no other.

In Glorious Rock Bottom Bryony opens up about a toxic twenty-year relationship with alcohol and drugs and explains exactly why hitting rock bottom - for her, a traumatic event and the abrupt realisation that she was putting herself in danger, time and again - saved her life. Known for her trademark honesty, Bryony re-lives the darkest and most terrifying moments of her addiction, never shying away from the fact that alcoholism robs you of your ability to focus on your family, your work, your health, your children, yourself. And then, a chink of light as the hard work begins - rehab; AA meetings; endless, tedious, painful self-reflection - a rollercoaster ride through self-acceptance, friendship, love and hope, to a joy and pride in staying sober that her younger self could never have imagined.

Shining a light on the deep connection between addiction and mental health issues, Glorious Rock Bottom is in turn, shocking, brutal, dark, funny, hopeful and uplifting. It is a sobriety memoir like no other.

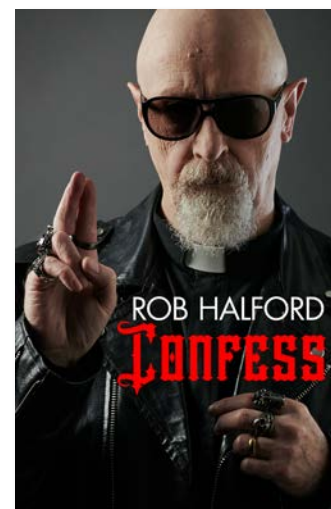

About the Author: Bryony Gordon has become one of The Telegraph's best-loved writers. She is the author of the bestselling The Wrong Knickers plus The Sunday Times Number One bestsellers You Got This and Mad Girl which was nominated for a British Book Award. She is the presenter of the Mad World podcast and in 2016 she founded Mental Health Mates, now a global peer support network which encourages people with mental health issues to connect and get out of the house. In 2017 she won the MIND Making A Difference Award for her work in changing the perception of mental health in the media. She lives in South London with her husband and daughter, and their two guinea pigs.

CONFESS

Rob Halford with Ian Gittins

The full, frank and shocking autobiography of Judas Priest's Metal God. Rob Halford is the legendary frontman of Judas Priest, one of the most successful heavy metal bands of all time.

Known as 'The Metal God' by his devoted, global fan base, Rob Halford has always subverted the norm, and Confess will offer readers a compelling and honest look at the struggles he has faced with addiction and his sexuality as well as exploring his music and his many brushes with controversy.

There have been few vocalists in the history of heavy metal whose singing style has been as influential and instantly recognizable as Halford's. Confess, published to coincide with the 50th anniversary of Judas Priest - and described by Halford himself as 'exciting, fun, disturbing and terrifying' - will celebrate five decades of the guts and glory of rock-n-roll.

RUNNING FROM THE SHADOWS Stephanie Hickey

A powerful true story of abuse and survival and how one woman found a way back to herself.

In Running from the Shadows Stephanie Hickey tells, in her own words, how she survived abuse at the hands of a trusted family member and of how running, a simple physical activity helped her achieve mindfulness, but also to rediscover love and faith in her body - to reclaim it.

Charting her life growing up in the rolling countryside of Waterford in the safety of her beloved family to the moment her childhood was shattered, to the court case where she waived her anonymity, to how she was able to reclaim a sense of herself through the sport which became like a therapy, Running from the Shadows is told with humour, strength and incredible courage -- a book that reveals how, even when things seem at their bleakest, a run through the Irish countryside, can bring you back into the light.

About the Author:

Stephanie Hickey lives in County Waterford with her partner of sixteen years. She has four children and runs most days in the valleys of the townlands where she grew up. She ran a half-marathon six months after taking up running and she has never looked back.

BAILEY: MY REASON TO LIVE Andy Hutchins

Bailey is the heartwarming tale of how a street dog and a homeless man saved each other from the streets and found a reason to live.

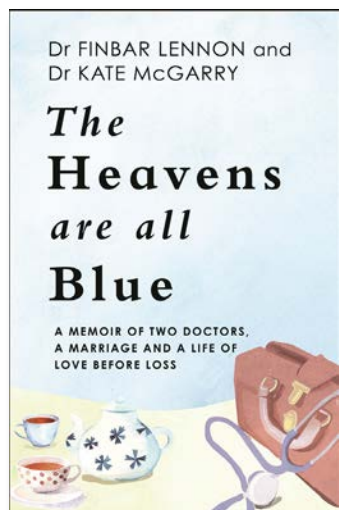

'He saves my life every day. I wake up, I think of drugs, but I walk my dog and ten minutes later my mindset's changed.'

Bailey is the heart warming tale of Andy Hutchins, a former drug addict and homeless man, and his life-saving relationship with his dog, Bailey. After twenty years of living on the streets, addiction and being in and out of prison, Andy bought Bailey on the street as a four-week-old puppy, still blind, on the day in late 2011 when he left prison for the last time.

From this puppy Andy learned long forgotten life lessons, about giving and receiving love, responsibility, trust and companionship. Bailey transformed his life and continues to do so. With their story, they raise awareness about the realities of being homeless as well as how a small gesture of kindness can change someone's life for the better.

About the Author:

Andy Hutchins is amazed and grateful to have reached the grand old age of 50. Unwanted at home, he was raised in a Hells Angels clubhouse. Twenty years of homelessness, drug addiction and crime followed but somehow failed to claim him. At his lowest point, he met a helpless 4-week-old puppy and named him Bailey. From this puppy Andy learned long forgotten life lessons, about giving and receiving love, responsibility, trust and companionship. Bailey transformed his life and continues to do so. Andy now has a home and is free from the grip of addiction. The scarf-wearing, bag-carrying Bailey is a well-known and loved member of his local London community.

THE HEAVENS ARE ALL BLUE Dr Finbar Lennon & Dr Kate McGarry

The stunning heart-warming memoir about two doctors, a husband and wife, coming to terms with a devastating diagnosis.

When Dr Kate McGarry was diagnosed with an advanced cancer of unknown origin she resolved to write a book to chart her experience: as a woman coming to terms with such devastating news and what this meant to her as a wife and a mother but also, crucially, how she experienced cancer and its treatment as a doctor, who had become a patient.

As Kate adjusted to living with cancer and underwent treatment, she enlisted the help of her husband, fellow doctor, Finbar to help her write the book but then she sadly passed away on the 5 January 2018. With no writing experience, and wrestling with his own heartache, Finbar set about finishing their story. The result is a touchingly beautiful memoir about love, grief and togetherness.

Hachette Ireland

UK Pub: April 2020

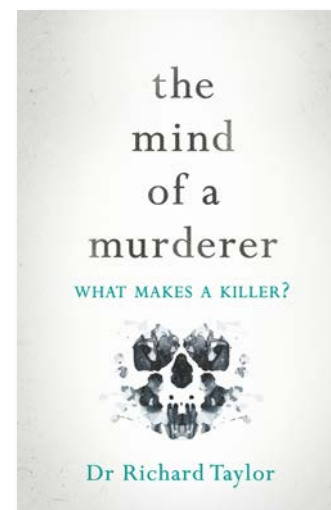

UK Editor: Ciara Doorley

About the Authors:

Dr Finbar Lennon is a medical graduate of UCD. He trained in Dublin, London and Edmonton. He was appointed a consultant general surgeon in Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Drogheda in 1982. Since his retirement in 2012 he teaches undergraduate medical students in the Mater Hospital in Dublin. He was recently appointed an Associate Professor in Clinical Surgery in UCD.

Dr Kate McGarry was an honours medical graduate of UCD after winning an entrance scholarship to UCD, going on to win the Bellingham Gold Medal in clinical medicine in St. Vincent's Hospital, where she did her early postgraduate training. Her later training took place in the Hammersmith and Great Ormond Street hospitals in London, and the clinical pharmacology department in the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland. Kate was a Fellow on the Royal College of Physicians for twenty-five years and she was also President of the Irish Heart Foundation. In October 2019, The Royal College of Physicians in Ireland honoured Kate with a prestigious new award, the Dr Kate McGarry Prize, which will be awarded annually to doctors in training.

THE MIND OF A MURDERER Dr. Richard Taylor

A gripping and eye-opening insight into life as a forensic psychiatrist, from one of the most experienced doctors in the field.

'Whodunnit' doesn't matter so much, not to a forensic psychiatrist. We're more interested in the 'why'.

In his 26 years in the field, Richard Taylor has worked on well over a hundred murder cases, with victims and perpetrators from all walks of life. In this fascinating memoir, Taylor draws on some of the most tragic, horrific and illuminating of these cases - as well as dark secrets from his own family's past - to explore some of the questions he grapples with:

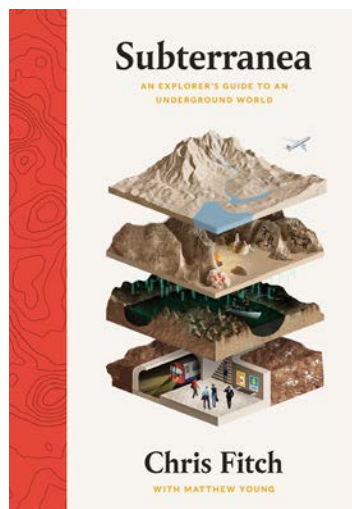

Why do people kill? Does committing a monstrous act make someone a monster? Could any of us, in the wrong circumstances, become a killer?

As Taylor helps us understand what lies inside the minds of his patients, using their own words to tell their stories, he presents us with the most important challenge of all: how can we find common humanity, even in the darkest of human deeds - and why it is so vital that we try?

The Mind of a Murderer is a fascinating exploration into the psyche of killers, as well as a unique insight into the life and mind of the doctor who treats them. For fans of Unnatural Causes, The Examined Life and All That Remains.

About the Author:

Richard Taylor trained as a doctor at University College London. He completed post-graduate training at the Bethlem and Maudsley hospitals and then took up a post as a Consultant Forensic Psychiatrist. Since then he has gained extensive experience working on cases involving all types of crime. He works both as an expert witness and as a treating forensic psychiatrist on all types of crime.

SUBTERRANEA

Chris Fitch with Matthew Young

A lavish, gorgeously-illustrated look at the strange worlds below the surface of our planet.

If you were to peel back the Earth's surface like an orange, then take a sly peek underneath, what extraordinary things would you see?

Subterranea is where the world's remaining mysteries are yet to be found. For millennia, across nations and cultures, it has been a hotbed of fantastical stories. It's where humans have kept their most sacred treasures and their darkest secrets. It's where we have found evidence of our past and may, at some point, find an escape route for our uncertain future. But what would we find there today?

From the underground cities of Cappadocia to smuggling tunnels on the US-Mexico border, caves full of tiny blind dragons and a seed vault located 1300km inside the Arctic circle, Subterranea demonstrates that the world below our feet is every bit as vivid and evocative as the world we see around us. Lavishly illustrated and replete with maps and photographs of little-explored locations, Subterranea is the unique, untold and utterly unforgettable story of our planet from the inside.

About the Author:

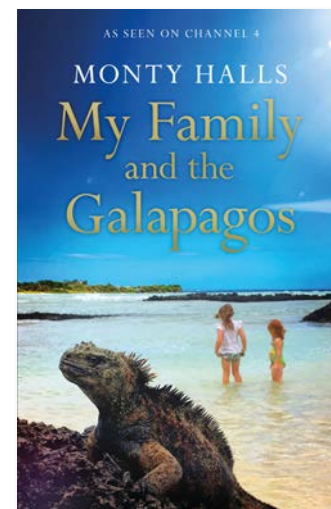

Chris Fitch is a writer, geographer, and storyteller based in New Zealand. He is a senior staff writer for Geographical, the magazine of the Royal Geographical Society, which has seen him travel from Greece to Australia, from Kenya to the Galápagos Islands, uncovering stories about wildernesses, culture, conservation, and more. Previously he lived in the Solomon Islands, South Korea, and Taiwan. His debut book, Atlas of Untamed Places was nominated for a 2018 Edward Stanford Travel Writing Award. His second book, Globalography, was published in November 2018.

MY FAMILY AND THE GALAPAGOS

Monty Halls

The Galapagos Islands have captured hearts and captivated imaginations for centuries. Such is their ecological importance that in 1978 the archipelago was declared the first ever World Heritage Site, a testament to our collective desire to preserve the magic and diversity that inspired Darwin. Monty Halls first visited the islands almost twenty years ago and his immediate fascination with their wild beauty would go on to shape the rest of his life.

As an explorer, marine biologist, ex-Royal Marine and now President of the Galapagos Conservation Trust, Monty is a passionate advocate for those fighting to save the Galapagos. In 2017, he and his dedicated research team - his wife, Tam, and their two young daughters, Molly and Isla - moved to Santa Cruz to experience just what life is like in the world's most spectacular tourist destination. As weeks turned into months, the Halls family were in turn spellbound by the beauty of the islands and heartbroken by the devastation that humans are inflicting upon them. One stint there was never going to be enough, and just two years later they found themselves heading back, this time staying on one of the remotest and most challenging islands, diving into the culture of the Galapagos and the desperately needed conservation work taking place there.

Written with warmth, humour, and authority, My Family and the Galapagos follows Monty and his family as they navigate life on the most important archipelago on the planet and strive to preserve it for generations to come.

About the Author:

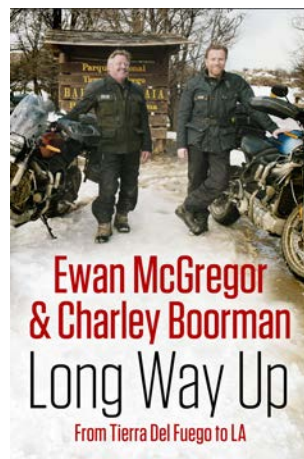

Monty Halls is a writer, broadcaster, speaker, naturalist, former Royal Marine, marine biologist and the President of the Galapagos Conservation Trust. His experience covers two decades of leading teams in some of the most remote environments on earth and presenting numerous wildlife documentaries.

LONG WAY UP Ewan McGregor & Charley Boorman

Long Way Up sees Ewan McGregor and Charley Boorman reunited for the trip of a lifetime, for fans of Long Way Round and Long Way Down, or any motorbike adventure enthusiast.

"It's not just about our love of motorcycling and meeting people and embracing cultures. It's also about who we are as people and how important true friendship is to both of us".

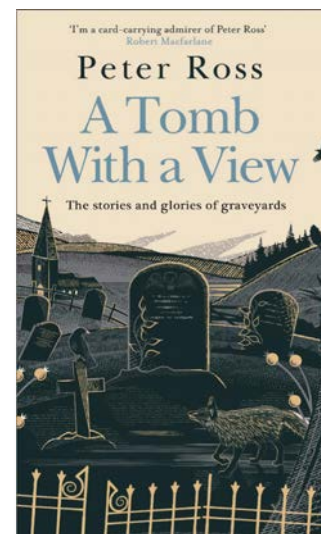

Following the global success of their previous books, Long Way Round and Long Way Down, Ewan McGregor and Charley Boorman are back together again, partnering this time with Apple+ TV, for a three-month, 13,000-mile adventure across the physical landscape of South America, and through the deep emotional territory of a unique friendship. Older and wiser, and riding electric Harley Davidsons for the very first time, they have embarked on a once-in-a-lifetime trip from the southernmost tip of South America, Tierra del Fuego, through the incredible landscapes of Bolivia and Peru and bustling Mexican towns, all the way up to the City of Angels.

Long Way Up is a page-turning, frank and highly entertaining travel book about two men riding round the world together and, against all the odds, living their dreams. It's also about two friends who drifted apart and found each other again, each one newly appreciating the profound value that a deep long-term friendship can bring. Here, with their trademark humour and honesty they tell their story - the drama, the dangers and the sheer exhilaration of riding together again, through a trip filled with jeopardy, magic and wonder.

About the authors:

Ewan McGregor OBE is one of Britain's most successful movie actors, well known for taking on challenging and inspirational roles. McGregor's numerous film successes include, Shallow Grave, Trainspotting, Moulin Rouge and the Star Wars prequels. He is also a keen motorbike rider and adventurer.

Charley Boorman is a modern-day adventurer, travel writer and entertainer. He met Ewan on the set of The Serpent's Kiss (1997), and since then has presented numerous adventure documentaries including the hit prequels to Long Way Up: Long Way Round and Long Way Down.

A TOMB WITH A VIEW Peter Ross

Orwell Prize-nominated journalist Peter Ross uncovers the stories and glories of graveyards.

For readers of The Salt Path, Mudlarking, Ghostland, Kathleen Jamie and Robert MacFarlane.

Enter a grave new world of fascination and delight as award-winning journalist Peter Ross uncovers the stories and glories of graveyards. Who are London's outcast dead and why is David Bowie their guardian angel? How did a thousand skulls come to be stacked beneath a church in Kent? Why is the music hall star who sang 'I Do Like To Be Beside The Seaside' buried on a hillside in Glasgow far from the sound of the silvery sea?

All of these sorrowful mysteries - and many more - are answered in A Tomb With A View, a book for anyone who has ever wandered through a field of crooked headstones and wondered about the lives and deaths of those who lie beneath.

So push open the rusting gate, push back the ivy, and take a look inside...lives and deaths of those who lie beneath.

About the Author:

Peter Ross is an award-winning journalist based in Glasgow. An eight-times winner at the Scottish Press Awards and shortlisted for the Orwell journalism prize, he is a regular contributor to the Guardian and The Times. His Boston Review story on reading Orwell in the age of Trump was named as a Notable Essay in The Best American Essays 2018, edited by Hilton Als.

He is the author of the non-fiction collections Daundlerlust and The Passion Of Harry Bingo, published by Sandstone Press. The latter was shortlisted as non-fiction book of the year at the Saltire
