THE LAND TRAP

July 2025 | Economic History

Translation | Proposal available

Agent: Aevitas Creative Management UK | Editor: Noah Schwartzberg

THE LAND TRAP is the story of the world's oldest asset and how it has sparked revolutions, fueled huge economic booms, and led to the worst financial crises in history. From ancient Babylon to seventeenth-century colonial America to modern China's perilous property bubble, this sweeping, vivid and original account shows how land came to assume the central role in the global banking system and in the finances of ordinary households and businesses around the world, all of which gives it a pivotal role in global politics. With attributes that make it profoundly different to other assets and goods, land is the missing puzzle piece in the popular understanding of how modern economies work.

WHISPERS

February 2025 | Personal Growth / Psychology

UK and Translation | Sample chapters available

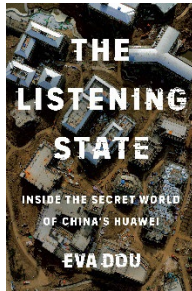

Agent: Sanford J. Greenberger Associates | Editor: Merry Sun

It's one of the most polarizing pieces of advice that we hear: "Go with your gut." But wouldn't it be nice to know when to just follow our gut and ignore all the data? Or alternatively, to know which situations our gut feel might be biased and leading us astray—such that we should be collecting more analytical data to cross-check our feelings? This book provides a research-backed, yet fun and practical, guide to gut feel, debunking and reconciling the varied perspectives on intuition and how people use it. Drawing from Huang's pioneering research, and interviews with fascinating characters and phenomenally successful people in their fields—including Olympic athletes, legendary investors, Pulitzer Prize winners, incarcerated individuals who have gotten back on their feet, and rock stars making comebacks after tragedy—WHISPERS reveals the art (and science) of listening to our most underestimated, misunderstood sense.

THE LISTENING STATE: Inside the Secret World of China's Huawei

August 2024 | Business History / Geopolitics

Translation | Proposal available; Manuscript in December 2023

Agent: Peter Bernstein | Editor: Noah Schwartzberg

Acclaimed Washington Post reporter Eva Dou exposes the untold story of the rise of Ren Zhengfei and the mysterious family dynasty at the center of Huawei, whose connections to state apparatus reveal a deeper truth about China's surveillance web and its global ambitions. Through its technologies, Huawei has helped solidify and enforce China's growing police state, in which outspoken entrepreneurs like Jack Ma have been silenced, tycoons have disappeared, and executives must put patriotism above profit. Based on over a decade of on-the-ground reporting and an astonishing trove of confidential documents never published in English, THE LISTENING STATE paints an epic story of familial and political intrigue that shines a clarifying light on how business and government work together in an authoritarian state, and how companies fit into China's international ambitions under Xi Jinping.

HOW TO DAO

September 2024 | Bitcoin & Cryptocurrencies / Business & Economics

UK and Translation | Manuscript expected in January 2024

Agent: William Morris Endeavor | Editor: Noah Schwartzberg

You've heard the buzz about Decentralized Autonomous Organizations (DAOs), and how they are going to redefine how we work and earn. But when you peel away the hype and tech jargon, what are they really? How do they operate, why do they matter, and how can we thrive in this brave new world of work? In HOW TO DAO, industry veterans Kevin Owacki and Puncar take you on an illuminating journey into the world of groundbreaking change, exploring the principles of decentralized finance, and teaching the brass tacks of setting up and managing your own DAO, from smart contracts to governance and innovation. You don't need to be a programmer or a financial whizz. DAOs are for everyone. Whether you're interested in art or commerce, building a business or crushing capitalism, there's a DAO for it. With HOW TO DAO, readers discover what DAOs are really about, and learn the tips and tricks they need to harness the limitless potential of this transformative new technology.

MIDAS MEN: What the Search for Gold Has Cost the World

September 2024 | Business History / Globalization

UK and Translation | Manuscript expected in February 2024

Agent: InkWell Management | Editor: Noah Schwartzberg

Since its founding, Barrick Gold Corporation has paid an estimated $10-billion in royalties and taxes to its host nations and delivered untold wealth to its shareholders. But these riches have come at a cost: accusations of large-scale environmental devastation, brutal labor practices, collusion with third world tyrants, and widespread criminality. In MIDAS MEN, groundbreaking investigative journalist Richard Poplak traces the evolution of Barrick to its roots, conjuring a sweeping exposé of the 20th century's most rapacious industry. Spanning five continents, Barrick's history perfectly embodies our golden age of multinationalism and systematic brutality of extractive industries in the developing world, which operate freely and with impunity behind a wall of media silence.

EAT WHAT YOU KILL

January 2025 | Selling / Negotiation

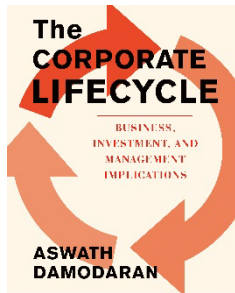

UK and Translation | Manuscript expected November 2023

Agent: CAA | Editor: Megan Wenerstrom

Just ten years ago, Sam Taggart was beating the streets as a door-to-door salesman selling solar and alarm systems, getting thousands of doors slammed in his face every day. Now, Sam is the founder and CEO of D2D Experts, a seven-figure sales empire that offers training to an active userbase of 30,000 members. The secret to his success is a simple mindset shift. In EAT WHAT YOU KILL, Sam Taggart teaches readers to be sales carnivores – conquerors with limitless potential – instead of herbivores – victims who make excuses for their failures. To become a carnivore, one must hurdle the eight stumbling blocks to sales success: Mindset, Strategy, Prospecting, Pitching, Presenting, Body Language, Overcoming Objections, and Closing. From improvisational tips to take your pitches to the next level, to activating your “prey drive” to supercharge prospecting, EAT WHAT YOU KILL is the synthesis of everything Sam Taggart has learned on his way to becoming the world's best salesman.

THE CORPORATE LIFE CYCLE: Business, Investment, and Management Implications

August 2024 | Valuation / Organizational Behavior / Business Development

UK and Translation | Manuscript available

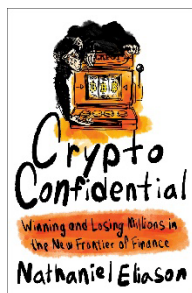

Editor: Noah Schwartzberg

Corporations have lifecycles very much like our own, with unique stages of growth and decline. And just as we must learn to act our age, so too must companies. By better understanding how corporations age and the characteristics of each stage of their lifecycle, we can unlock the secrets behind any businesses behavior and optimize our management and investment decisions accordingly. In THE CORPORATE LIFECYCLE, readers will learn—

- What markers tell where a company falls on its corporate lifecycle, and crucial insights for managers as they navigate the different stages
- Why the shape and timing of life cycles varies across different industries
- When transition points pose special challenges to companies—and strategies to conquer them
- How differences in investment philosophies, in particular the divide between growth and value investing, should lead investors towards companies at different lifecycle stages

This book is for anyone with skin in the corporate finance game—from managers to investors, novices to seasoned pros.

Known as “the Dean of Valuation,” Aswath Damodaran is a Professor of Finance at the Stern School of Business at New York University where he teaches corporate finance and equity valuation. RIGHT THING, RIGHT NOW: Justice in an Unjust World

June 2024 | Philosophy / Self-Help

Translation | Manuscript available

Agent: Level Five Media | Editor: Adrian Zackheim

For the ancients, everything worth pursuing in life flowed from a strong sense of justice—or one's commitment to doing the right thing, no matter how difficult. In order to be courageous, wise, and self-disciplined, one must begin with justice. The influence of the modern world often tells us that acting justly is optional. Holiday argues that that's simply untrue—and the fact that so few people today have the strength to stand by their convictions explains much about why we're so unhappy. In this much-anticipated third installment of the Stoic Virtues series, Ryan Holiday draws on fascinating stories of historical figures such as Marcus Aurelius, Florence Nightingale, Jimmy Carter, Gandhi, and Frederick Douglass, whose examples of kindness, honesty, integrity, and loyalty we can emulate as pillars of upright living. RIGHT THING. RIGHT NOW. is a powerful antidote to the moral failures of our modern age, and a manual for living virtuously.

THE CEO WORKSHOP: From Leaders to Legends

August 2024 | Leadership / Organizational Behavior / Management

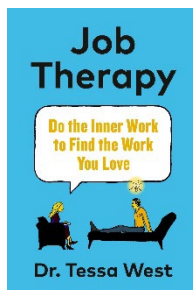

UK and Translation | Sample material available; manuscript expected January 2024

Agent: Lynn Johnston Literary | Editor: Merry Sun

Today's CEOs operate in a high-risk, high-reward environment, expected to tackle much more complexity and make big swings with no second chances. It's taken a toll: the average tenure of an S&P 500 CEO is at an all-time low of under five years. Confronted with this terrain, leaders of the world's most storied, boldest, and valuable organizations from Moderna to Microsoft have turned to an inside secret: McKinsey's Bower Forum, the prestigious, invite-only "CEO workshop." Now, THE CEO WORKSHOP distills the Forum's "lifechanging experience" into a signature process to identify and implement tenure-defining bold moves. Packed with insightful, vulnerable, never-before-heard reflections from leaders and attendees this is an invaluable resource for today's leader.

JOB THERAPY: Do the Inner Work to Find the Work You Love

July 2024 | Careers / Psychology / Self-Help

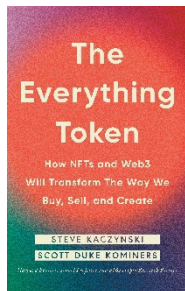

Translation | Proposal available

Agent: InkWell Management | Editor: Lydia Yadi

When we think about changing jobs, we turn to traditional career advice that focuses on skills, qualifications, and interviewing techniques. But this line of thinking doesn't get to the heart of the problem—why you've been so unhappy at work in the first place. What if, instead, we asked ourselves a different question: "What psychological needs aren't being met now that need to be met in my next job?" Drawing from a wealth of original research – interviews with hundreds of career go-ers and 1,500 hirers at LinkedIn, Recruiter, and McKinsey – West offers cutting-edge insights on hiring and interviewing to help you secure your new dream job. Whether you've only just entered the workplace or considering your final move, JOB THERAPY will help you identify and land your best role yet, one that's deeply rooted in a clear sense of self.

THE EVERYTHING TOKEN: How NFTs and Web3 Will Transform the Way We Buy, Sell, and Create

January 2024 | Cryptocurrencies / Information Technology / Blockchain

Translation | Manuscript available

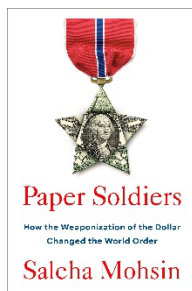

Agent: Paul Mahon | Editor: Merry Sun

NFTs aren't just pictures on the internet, or a fad that has come and gone. Rather, they're a new technology for creating digital assets and providing irrefutable proof of ownership.

NFTs open up markets that have never before existed, and are already revolutionizing commerce and brand-building at everything from hot startups to Fortune 500 companies. Kominers and Kaczynski have created a framework that explains what NFTs are, why they're valuable, and how businesses can leverage them to build highly engaged and intensely loyal communities around their products and brands. Through original research and industry experience, Kominers and Kaczynski describe the possibilities of this new digital frontier with clarity and rigor. THE EVERYTHING TOKEN is the essential primer on this innovation that has the potential to transform all aspects of business.

PAPER SOLDIERS: How the Weaponization of the Dollar Changed the World Order

March 2024 | Monetary Policy / Government & Business

UK and Translation | Manuscript available

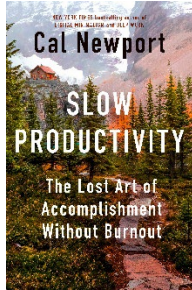

Agent: Javelin Group | Editor: Merry Sun

For decades, America has preferred its currency superpower-strong, the basis of a "strong dollar" policy that attracted foreign investors and pleased consumers. Meanwhile, abroad, the United States increasingly turned to the dollar as a weapon of war. In PAPER

SOLDIERS, Saleha Mohsin reveals how the Treasury Department has shaped U.S. policy at home and overseas by wielding the American dollar as a weapon, and its intended and unintended consequences from the rise of populist sentiment and trade war with China to the deployment of crippling financial sanctions against Russia. Mohsin tells the inside story of how we got here—and the future not only of the almighty dollar, but the nation's teetering role as a democratic superpower.

SLOW PRODUCTIVITY: The Lost Art of Accomplishment Without Burnout

March 2024 | Time Management / Self-Help

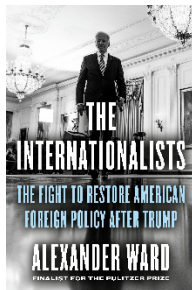

Translation | Manuscript available

Agent: DeFiore & Co. | Editor: Lydia Yadi

Long before the arrival of pinging inboxes and clogged schedules, history's most creative and impactful philosophers, scientists, artists, and writers mastered the art of producing valuable work with staying power. In this timely and provocative book, Cal Newport harnesses the wisdom of these traditional knowledge workers to radically transform our modern jobs. Drawing from deep research on the habits and mindsets of a varied cast of storied thinkers – from Galileo and Isaac Newton, to Jane Austen and Georgia O'Keefe – Newport lays out the key principles of “slow productivity,” a more sustainable alternative to the aimless overwhelm that defines our current moment. From the aggressive rethinking of workload management, to introducing seasonal variation, to shifting your performance toward long-term quality, SLOW PRODUCTIVITY provides a roadmap for escaping overload and arriving instead at a more timeless approach to pursuing meaningful accomplishment.

THE INTERNATIONALISTS: The Fight to Restore American Foreign Policy After Trump

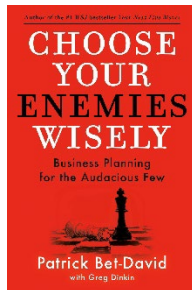

February 2024 | American Government / Geopolitics

UK and Translation | Manuscript available

Agent: William Morris Endeavor | Editor: Noah Schwartzberg

When Joe Biden assumed the United States presidency, he brought with him a team of all-star talent, perhaps the most experienced ensemble of policy experts in modern U.S. history. Their mission: repair America's damaged reputation abroad and decide the course of its global future. Around the world, adversaries were consolidating power, allies were drifting away, wars were raging, and climate change was accelerating, all while Russia was disrupting democracies and China was seeking to replace the U.S. as the world's preeminent power. In THE INTERNATIONALISTS, acclaimed national security reporter Alexander Ward takes us behind the scenes to reveal the struggle to enact a coherent and effective set of policies in a time of global crisis. Thanks to rigorous reporting and sources in the rooms where it happened, Ward delivers the first definitive, unvarnished account of the Biden Doctrine, from the Fall of Kabul to the Rise of Kiev.

SAME AS EVER: A Guide to What Never Changes

November 2023 | Decision-Making & Problem Solving / Investing / Self-Help

Translation | Manuscript available

Agent: CAA | Editor: Noah Schwartzberg

Every investment plan under the sun is, at best, an informed speculation of what may happen in the future, based on a systematic extrapolation from the known past. SAME AS EVER reverses the process, inviting us to identify the many things that never, ever change.

Morgan Housel presents a master class on optimizing risk and seizing opportunity. Through a sequence of engaging stories and pithy examples, he shows how we can use our newfound grasp of the unchanging to see around corners, not by squinting harder through the uncertain landscape of the future, but by looking backwards, being more broad-sighted, and focusing on what is permanently true. By doing so, we may better anticipate the big stuff, and achieve the greatest success, not merely financial comforts, but a life well lived.

MILLION DOLLAR WEEKEND: The Surprisingly Simple Way to Launch a 7-Figure Business in 48 Hours

January 2024 | Entrepreneurship / Self-Help

Translation | Manuscript available

Agent: Writer's House | Editor: Merry Sun

Now is the best time in history for entrepreneurship. More than ever, the world needs new businesses and it's cheaper than ever to create them. But, if the barriers to starting a business are getting lower and lower, why is it so hard to do for so many people? Ask yourself:

- Do you want to work for yourself, or start a side-hustle, but it all feels too risky and unpredictable?
- Have you spent time or money on things like websites and logos, but still have no customers?
- Are you brainstorming endlessly and waiting for the perfect idea to strike?

All those Frequent Excuses are solvable. The plan is simple—so simple it can be completed in a single weekend, but so powerful that Kagan has used it to build seven businesses now worth more than $1 million. With the Million Dollar Weekend Process you'll have a market-tested, scalable business idea by Monday and on the path to creating your dream life.

THE BIG FAIL: What the Pandemic Revealed About Who America Protects and Who It Leaves Behind

October 2023 | Economic Conditions / Government & Business

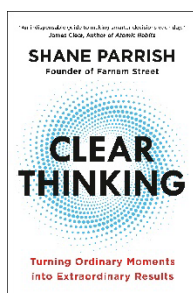

Translation | Manuscript available

Agent: Darhansoff & Verrill | Editor: Adrian Zackheim

In 2020, the novel coronavirus pandemic made it painfully clear that the US could not adequately protect its citizens. Millions of Americans suffered—and over a million died—in less than two years, while the Trump administration blundered, prize-winning economists overlooked devastating trade-offs, and elites escaped to isolated retreats, unaffected by and even profiting from the pandemic. Why and how did America, in a catastrophically enormous failure, become the world leader in COVID deaths? In this page-turning economic, political, and financial history, veteran journalists Joseph Nocera and Bethany McLean offer fresh and provocative answers. In the tradition of the authors' previous landmark exposés, THE BIG FAIL is an expansive, insightful account on what the pandemic did to the economy and how American capitalism has jumped the rails—and is essential reading to understand where we're going next.

Joe Nocera is a columnist for The Free Press. Bethany McLean is a journalist and contributing editor at Vanity Fair. She has co-authored multiple bestselling books, including The Smartest Guys in the Room with Peter Elkind and All the Devils Are Here with Joe Nocera.

CLEAR THINKING: Turning Ordinary Moments into Extraordinary Results

October 2023 | Decision Making & Problem Solving / Cognitive Psychology

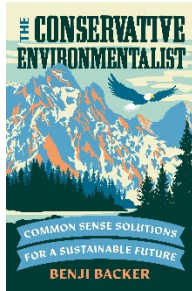

Translation excluding China, Japan, Taiwan | Manuscript available

Agent: CAA | Editor: Niki Papdopoulos

You might believe you're thinking clearly in the moments that matter most. But in all likelihood, when the pressure is on, you won't be thinking at all. At our worst, we react to events without reasoning, not even realizing that we've missed an opportunity to think. At our best, we recognize these moments for what they are, and apply the full capacity of our reasoning and rationality to them. Through stories, mental models, and more, Shane Parrish offers the missing link between behavioral science and real-life outcomes. The result is a must-have manual for optimizing decision-making, gaining competitive advantage, and living a more intentional life.

THE CONSERVATIVE ENVIRONMENTALIST: Common Sense Solutions for a Sustainable Future

April 2024 | Climate Change / Environmental Policy

UK and Translation | Manuscript available

Agent: Athos Media Strategies | Editor: Helen Healey-Cunningham

Activists, politicians, and pseudo-experts have led us to believe that there are only two viable approaches to climate change: panicked doomerism or flat-out denial. Conservative climate activist Benji Backer argues that both are failing, and that conservative values are the key to climate solutions that actually work. In this book, you'll visit the country's most diverse ecosystems and consequential manufacturing hubs—from Utah coal mines and Texas oil fields to Louisiana's wetlands and Rhode Island's off-shore wind farms—witnessing the power of individual entrepreneurship and local problem-solving. You'll learn about the inspiring, under-the-radar efforts to improve Earth's ecosystems that big government Green New Dealers don't want you to know about, like partnerships between resource-rich oil and gas companies and environmental nonprofits to preserve thousands of acres of wetlands. Fascinating, clear-headed, and full of surprises, this book is the fresh approach we need to create a sustainable future for America and the world.

Benji Backer is President and Founder of the American Conservation Coalition, the largest right-of-center environmental organization in the country. For his work with the ACC, he has been awarded the Fortune 40 Under 40, Forbes 30 Under 30, GreenBiz 30 Under 30, and Grist 50. He serves as a Board member for the Wisconsin Conservative Energy Forum and Mainstream Republicans of Washington. A frequent contributor to multiple national media outlets, Benji is one of the leading youth environmental voices in the country.

Most pundits and historians sell a dangerously naive version of the American story—either praising its most consequential figures uncritically or criticizing them unfairly. Sharon McMahon believes the truth is more human. Here she tells the inspiring stories of twelve Americans—regular people with human foibles—whose extraordinary heroism in the face of mounting trials created the character of our country. With the same clarity and candor that’s earned her millions of fans, McMahon follows the daughter of formerly enslaved parents who sparked a reformation in Black education, a Japanese immigrant who nearly died in combat and became a consequential senator, and even the electrician who saved her husband’s life. The portraits of our nation’s most improbable champions, innovators, and rebels in this book celebrate the United States and reveal our common humanity.

Sharon McMahon is a former high school government and law teacher who earned a reputation as “America’s Government Teacher” amid the historic 2020 election proceedings for her viral efforts on Instagram to educate the general public on political misinformation. Through a simple mission to share non-partisan information about democracy, she has amassed hundreds of thousands of followers online, affectionately called the “Governerds.”

MORNING AFTER THE REVOLUTION: 2020 and All That

April 2024 | Political Science

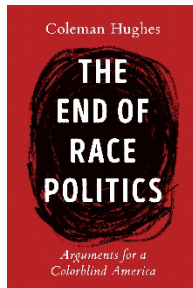

Translation | Manuscript available

Agent: Javelin Group | Editor: Bria Sandford

As a card-carrying lesbian, Hillary voter, and New York Times reporter, Nellie Bowles fit right in with her San Francisco neighbors and friends – until she started questioning whether the progressive movement she knew and loved actually helped people. In MORNING AFTER THE REVOLUTION, Bowles gives readers a front-row seat to the absurd drama of a political movement gone mad. With irreverent accounts of attending Robin DiAngelo’s multi-day course on “The Toxic Trends of Whiteness,” meeting the social justice activists who run “Abolitionist Entertainment, LLC,” and coming to figurative blows with the New York Times’ “disinformation czar,” she deftly exposes the more comic excesses of wealthy progressives. Deliciously funny and painfully insightful, MORNING AFTER THE REVOLUTION is Slouching Towards Bethlehem for the 21st century – a moment of collective psychosis preserved in amber. This is an unmissable debut by one of America’s sharpest journalists.

Nellie Bowles is a journalist writing about business and culture. Previously, she was a tech reporter at the New York Times and a correspondent for VICE News Tonight on HBO. As part of a team, she won the GERALD LOEB AWARD in Investigations and the Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights Journalism Award for reporting on online predators.

THE END OF RACE POLITICS: Arguments for a Colorblind America

February 2024 | Social Science

UK Commonwealth | Manuscript available

Agent: Inkwell Management | Editor: Helen Healey-Cunningham

Contemplative yet audacious, THE END OF RACE POLITICS is necessary reading for anyone who questions the race orthodoxies of our time. Coleman Hughes argues for a return to the ideals that inspired the American Civil Rights movement, showing how our departure from the colorblind ideal has ushered in a new era of fear, paranoia, and resentment marked by draconian interpersonal etiquette, failed corporate diversity and inclusion efforts, and poisonous race-based policies that hurt the very people they intend to help. Through careful argument, Hughes dismantles harmful beliefs about race, proving that reverse racism will not atone for past wrongs and showing why race-based policies will lead only to the illusion of racial equity. By fixating on race, we lose sight of what it really means to be anti-racist. A racially just, colorblind society is possible. Hughes gives us the intellectual tools to make it happen.

Coleman Hughes is a writer, podcaster and opinion columnist who specialises in issues related to race, public policy and applied ethics. Coleman’s writing has been featured in the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal, National Review, Quillette, The City Journal and The Spectator. He appeared on Forbes’ 30 Under 30 list in 2021.
