Cash, Johnny, edited and with a foreword by Paul Muldoon
FOREVER WORDS

Poetry | Blue Rider Press Hardcover | November 2016 | UK & Translation

Agent: c/o Blue Rider Press | Editor: Sarah Hochman

Status: manuscript available in late April 2016

Since his first hit in the 1950s, Johnny Cash has been an icon in the music world. Here is a trove of never-before-seen poems and song lyrics by Cash, a perfect gift book for the holiday season and beyond. In these pages, Cash writes verses in his hallmark voice about justice, freedom, and mortality. He also reveals sharply witty observations about culture, about his family, his fame, and even Christmas. Illustrated with reproductions of Cash's own handwritten pages, FOREVER WORDS is a remarkable new addition to the canon of one of America's heroes.

Johnny Cash was an American singer-songwriter, who is widely considered one of the most influential musicians of the 20th century and one of the bestselling music artists of all time, having sold more than 90 million records worldwide.

Paul Muldoon is an Irish poet. He has published over 30 collections and won a Pulitzer Prize for Poetry and the T.S. Eliot Prize. He held the post of Oxford Professor of Poetry. At Princeton University, he is both the Howard G. B. Clark Professor in the Humanities and chair of the Lewis Center for the Arts. He is also the President of the Poetry Society (UK) and Poetry Editor at The New Yorker.

Agent: Stuart Miller @ The Stuart M. Miller Co. | Editor: David Rosenthal

Status: manuscript available June 2016

When their world collapsed in a sheet of white light, six strangers were saved from the destruction by mysterious silver bracelets. The six arrived on a bizarre new earth where time can be manipulated, cars fly through the sky, and portals instantly transport. Known as the Silvers, these seemingly unrelated people began to develop amazing abilities they never knew they had, and never wanted. But they aren't Earth's only survivors. Pursued across the country by government forces, and by a renegade group of survivors with similar powers called the Gothams, the Silvers are not sure whom they can trust. This is the second book in the genre-bending Silvers series.

Daniel Price is the author of Slick and The Flight of the Silvers.

Thriller | Penguin Paperback Original | June 2016 | UK & Translation

Agent: Emily Forland @ Brandt & Hochman | Editor: Lindsey Schwoeri

Status: bound galleys available

"Once I started reading Under the Harrow, I couldn't stop. It's like Broadchurch written by Elena Ferrante."

—Claire Messud, author of *The Woman Upstairs

"I read Under the Harrow through the night—I couldn't put it down."

—Alex Marwood, author of *The Wicked Girls

When Nora takes the train from London to visit her sister in the countryside, she expects to find her waiting at the station, or at home cooking dinner. But when she walks into Rachel's familiar house, what she finds is entirely different: her sister has been the victim of a brutal murder. A riveting psychological thriller and a haunting exploration of the fierce love between two sisters, the distortions of grief, and the terrifying power of the past, Under the Harrow marks the debut of an extraordinary new writer.

Flynn Berry is a former fellow at the Michener Center for Writers and a graduate of Brown University's Literary Arts Department. She is the recipient of a Yaddo residency and the winner of the Orlando Prize.

TREE OF TREASURES: A Life in Ornaments

Memoir/Crafts | Penguin Hardcover | September 2016 | UK & Translation

Agent: Miriam Altshuler @ Miriam Altshuler Literary Agency | Editor: Meg Leder

Status: designed manuscript available

Bonnie Mackay celebrates Christmas like no one else: her collection of ornaments numbers more than three thousand. Each ornament represents a passage in Bonnie's life: the story of a family member, like her grandfather, a well-known vaudeville performer; a relationship with a dear friend, like a cartoonist from her days at Pratt in Brooklyn; a memory of a beloved pet; and much more. No book celebrates the beauty, rituals, and significance of the holiday like this memoir-in-vignettes. Appealing to the religious, secular, and Grinch alike, TREE OF TREASURES probes the true art and meaning of the Christmas tree and will be the perfect holiday gift for years to come.

Bonnie Mackay is the founder of BMackayConsulting, where her clients have included the Cooper Hewitt Museum, the Museum of Modern Art, and the Highline. She previously worked at Bloomingdale's for eighteen years, where she was the Operating Vice President and Fashion Director. She also worked as the Director of Creative, Marketing and Merchandising at the Museum of Modern Art for fourteen years.

Science | Penguin Hardcover | October 2016 | UK & Translation

Agent: David Fugate @ LaunchBooks Literary Agency | Editor: Meg Leder

Status: manuscript available

From Wired columnist Matt Simon, THE WASP THAT BRAINWASHED THE CATERPILLAR is an absurdist, illustrated romp through nature's weirdest evolutions. Each original entry talks about a creature and its amazing adaptation, using Matt's signature blend of scientific accuracy and humor. The creatures themselves are absolutely mind-blowing: zombie ants mind-controlled by a fungus; beautiful salamanders that can regenerate any part of their bodies including their brains; the mantis shrimp, which fires its club-like appendage so fast that the surrounding water becomes as hot as the surface of the sun; the Antechinus, whose runaway testosterone levels cause them to have so much sex during their three-week mating session that they bleed internally, go blind, and drop dead; and many more.

Matt Simon is a journalist who writes Wired Science's "Absurd Creature of the Week" column and the "Fantastically Wrong" column, which explores the strangest mistakes in folklore and science. This is his first book.

WHERE AM I NOW?: True Stories of Girlhood and Accidental Fame

Memoir | Penguin Trade Paperback | September 2016 | UK & Translation

Agent: Alyssa Reuben @ Paradigm Talent Agency | Editor: Lindsey Schwoeri

Status: manuscript available

“Genuine and authentic, funny and heartbreaking, WHERE AM I NOW? is a book that reminds you that no matter how unique your life is, some things bind us all together.”

—JENNY LAWSON, author of Furiously Happy and Let's Pretend this Never Happened

Mara Wilson has always felt a little young and a little out of place: as the only child on a film set full of adults, the first daughter in a house full of boys, the sole clinically depressed member of the cheerleading squad, a valley girl in New York and a neurotic in California, and one of the few former child actors who has never been in jail or rehab. Tackling everything from how she first learned about sex on the set of Melrose Place, to losing her mother at a young age, these essays tell the story of one young woman's journey from accidental fame to relative (but happy) obscurity. But they also illuminate a universal struggle: learning to accept yourself, and figuring out who you are and where you belong. Exquisitely crafted, revelatory, and full of the crack comic timing that has made Mara Wilson a sought-after live storyteller and Twitter star, WHERE AM I NOW? introduces a brilliant and bold new literary voice.

Mara Wilson is a writer, playwright, actor and storyteller perhaps best known as the little girl from Mrs. Doubtfire, Miracle on 34th Street, and Matilda. A graduate of NYU's Tisch School of the Arts, she regularly appears at live storytelling and comedy shows, including her own, What Are You Afraid Of? Her writing can be found on Jezebel, The Toast, McSweeney's, The Daily Beast, and Cracked.com.

HOW TO MAKE A SPACESHIP: A Band of Renegades, an Epic Race, and the Birth of Private Space Flight

Science & Technology | Penguin Press Hardcover | September 2016 | UK & Translation

Agent: Joe Veltre @ Gersh | Editor: Scott Moyers

Status: manuscript available

HOW TO MAKE A SPACESHIP is a Silicon Valley “Rocket Boys” meets Tom Wolfe’s “The Right Stuff,” with great entrepreneurial lessons for all. It is written with the full cooperation and support of X PRIZE founder Peter Diamandis, who is also underwriting a significant prize for the team that sells the most copies of the book. The X PRIZE—the history-making race to be the first private group to put a reusable rocket into space—and the misfit band of innovators, hackers, geniuses, chemists, billionaires, and aviation legends that joined Diamandis in it is at the center of this title, and Diamandis, a space-flight-obsessed boy who never really grew up is at the center of that race. It is also about the education of a great innovator and entrepreneur, and a story about taking risks in a risk-averse society.

Julian Guthrie is a journalist for the San Francisco Chronicle and her work has appeared in The Wall Street Journal, The Huffington Post, Forbes, and Salon.com. Her stories have been nominated for the Pulitzer Prize more than a dozen times. She is the best-selling author of The Grace of Everyday Saints and The Billionaire and the Mechanic.

THE LATE BLOOMER

Memoir | TarcherPerigee Trade Paperback | August 2016 | UK & Translation

Agent: Michael Bourret @ Dystel & Goderich | Editor: Mitch Horowitz

Status: manuscript available

THE LATE BLOOMER is the bracingly honest memoir of a star athlete who lived with a brain tumor that flooded his body with female hormones and sent him into a sexual netherworld from which he would emerge with insights about sexuality and manhood few could imagine. Originally published tie-in to the forthcoming movie of the same name, starring Elijah Wood and directed by Kevin Pollack.

Ken Baker is an author, journalist, and TV personality. Ken's debut novel Fangirl tells the story of a pop star who falls for a devoted fan and gets caught up in a tabloid-ready love triangle. He has cited as inspiration for the teen love story his front-row seat to the world of celebrity fandom as E! Entertainment's Chief News Correspondent.

MINDSHIFT: How Ordinary and Extraordinary People Have Transformed Their Lives Through Learning—and You Can Too

Self-Help/Personal Growth | TarcherPerigee Trade Paperback | April 2017 |

UK & Translation

Agent: Rita Rosenkranz @ Rita Rosenkranz Lit Agency | Editor: Joanna Ng

Status: manuscript available September 2016

MINDSHIFT shows how ordinary people can change their lives by overcoming learning handicaps—such as Imposter’s Syndrome and advancing age—and turning these perceived weaknesses into strengths. Oakley guides and inspires readers by telling the stories of people who have successfully changed their lives and by exploring the neuroscience of learning and growing. This book will also include strategies for learning backed by brain science, and practical exercises to apply these principles in your own life.

Barbara Oakley is a professor of engineering at Oakland University in Rochester, Michigan. Her massive open online course (MOOC), “Learning How to Learn,” which she teaches alongside legendary neuroscientist Terrence Sejnowski, was the third most popular MOOC in the world in 2014. “Learning How to learn” is based on Dr. Oakley’s first book, A Mind For Numbers, which was a New York Times bestseller. Dr. Oakley has received many awards for teaching, including the National Science Foundation New Century Scholar Award.

THE RESILIENT BRAIN

Self-Help/Health | TarcherPerigee Hardcover | June 2017 | UK &

Translation

Agent: Andrea Somberg @ Harvey Klinger | Editor: Marian Lizzi

Status: manuscript available June 2016

Drawing on the latest research, THE RESILIENT BRAIN offers readers a step-by-step plan to transform the way their brain works. Scientists have found that there is a "sweet spot" in our brain that decides who we are, how we think, and how we react to the world, but it goes awry over time, leading to changes that are often misinterpreted as the normal process of aging or misdiagnosed as depression. This book shows how, through a series of dietary, lifestyle-related and behavioral manipulations, it is possible to reverse the damage and become smarter, happier and more productive in the process. There is no other book on the market that offers similar information because the research is so new.

Mithu Storoni holds a medical degree from the University of Cambridge, a PhD in Neuro-ophthalmology and has extensive experience in Neuroscience research in labs at Cambridge, London and at Harvard Medical School. She is a reviewer for Neurological Sciences and her work has been published in various medical journals, including The Lancet. She is sought after as a speaker, and has won numerous awards at international medical conferences both in the United States and in Europe. She has been asked by Goldman Sachs, J.P. Morgan and Cathay Pacific Airlines to give workshops based on the material in the book.
